

Cautions Israel, Egypt

U.S. Striving To Avert New Clash in Gaza

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States sought today to restrain Egypt and Israel from any hasty actions which might erupt into new fighting.

American diplomats in Washington, Cairo, Tel Aviv and at the United Nations bent their efforts toward calming both embattled countries.

Egypt went ahead today with plans to take over civil administration of the Gaza Strip, perhaps this weekend, without U. N. opposition.

The Cairo government was reported to have given assurance it would not move into the area on the Mediterranean coast until everything was "cleaned up diplomatically." But the Egyptians themselves said they would return to Gaza on their own terms as soon as they liked.

General in Command

Egyptian officials have said, however, that only civil administrators and not Egyptian troops would return to Gaza. However, Egypt named a major general as governor of the strip.

Israel already has served notice that it "reserves freedom of action in case Egyptians return to the strip."

Much hope was pinned on the forthcoming trip to Cairo by United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld. He leaves Saturday for expected talks with Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser. America's U. N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge conferred with Hammarskjöld Wednesday.

Undersecretary of State Christian A. Herter is acting boss of the department while Secretary of State Dulles is in Canberra, Australia, for the Southeast Asia Treaty council meeting just ended. Dulles is due back in Washington Sunday.

Has Meeting With Eban

Herter met Wednesday night with Israel's Ambassador Abba Eban and then had an "exchange of views" with French Ambassador Herve Alphand and British Minister John E. Coulson, who was acting for the absent ambassador, Sir Harold Caccia.

Eban, recalled from a Florida vacation, conveyed to Herter a "message" from his government.

According to authoritative sources, these two basic Israeli arguments were in the message:

1. Nasser must be stopped. He is trying to turn military defeat into political victory by imposing his will on the United Nations and the United States. He was committed not to send administrators back into Gaza, yet appointed a military governor for the 28-by-6-mile territory. If he succeeds in Gaza he will be difficult to deal with in other likely trouble spots, including the Suez Canal.

2. Israel feels it has a moral commitment from President Eisenhower. This commitment was made in Eisenhower's March 2 letter to Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion. It said Israel's agreement to withdraw her troops from the Gaza Strip were based on "reasonable" hopes and the United States "will seek that such hopes prove not to be in vain."

Warns Against Rash Action

Herter's response to Eban was understood to have amounted to an appeal that Israel not do anything rash. A rash act, in the U. S. view would be for Israel to march back into Gaza.

The Egyptians are being urged, on the other hand, to "cooperate" with the U. N. Emergency Forces. This is the diplomat's way of reminding Egypt that, while there is general recognition of the 1949 Palestine truce gives Egypt legal control of Gaza, practically the whole world has been led to believe Egypt would not try to exercise this right until a hot situation has cooled.

Cuba Revolt Suppressed; 40 Are Slain

Palace Is Attacked in Bold Student Assault On President Batista

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Tank-backed troops have wiped out a bold student attempt to capture or kill President Fulgencio Batista in fighting that took an estimated 40 lives.

The government said the entire nation was calm early today.

One of the dead was an American tourist.

A curfew, imposed after the assault on the presidential palace in the heart of Havana, was lifted Wednesday night. Many persons, including American tourists, moved about as usual in bars, restaurants and night clubs.

Tanks Surround Palace

Armored cars and tanks still mobilized about the palace, Batista's office and residence, were the only open signs of the trouble that erupted violently Wednesday afternoon.

There was no official announcement of arrests, but it was evident that police were carrying out an intensive search for participants in the attack.

In addition to the 40 persons reported killed, an estimated 60 were wounded.

The dead included tourist Peter Korenda, Clifton, N.J. A stray bullet killed him as he watched the battle from the fifth-floor balcony of the Regis Hotel. His roommate, Ed R. Butts, Garfield, N.J., was wounded slightly.

Student Leader Killed

Police said the rebel dead included Jose Antonio Echeverria, president of the University of Havana students' federation, and Menelao Mora, a congressman when Carlos Prio Socarras was Cuban president.

The bullet-riddled body of another revolutionary leader, former Sen. Pelayo Cuervo Navarro, was found early today on the grounds of a suburban country club but it was not immediately clear whether his death had any connection with the attempt on Batista.

Echeverria was identified as a friend of Fidel Castro Luz, young anti-Batista guerrilla leader operating in the mountains of eastern Cuba. The attack on Batista was not directly linked with Castro, but the students undoubtedly were inspired by the guerrilla campaign which the army has been unable to suppress completely.

Tight Controls Opposed

Observers attribute the abortive uprising to long-smoldering resentment against some aspects of Batista's regime. Cuba is experiencing prosperity, but many persons fear increased public debt and inflation. Unemployment has been rising. Cuba student groups have always been bitter about the dictatorial side of Batista's rule.

The uprising began with a caravan of buses and cars roaring into the palace plaza. A band of armed student rebels streamed off.

An army announcement attributed the attack to a movement "basically of communist origin, with the complicity" of supporters of former president Prio, now an exile in Miami, and of Fidel Castro.

Batista announced he would conduct business as usual today, meeting previously scheduled appointments.

Allegedly Sought Racket Probe Secrets

High Teamster Official Seized By FBI, Charged With Bribery

Gardeners Cheer Warmth

THIS WEEK'S BALMY WEATHER, with temperatures in the upper 60s and low 70s, is ushering in the spring season a week ahead of its official arrival. Gardeners are taking advantage of the ideal weather to clean up their yards and get garden areas ready for spring planting. Here Mrs. Thomas C. Fetter is busy in her yard at 319 E. Walnut St. preparing an area for planting soon. The mercury climbed to 71 Wednesday, according to local weather observers, for the highest reading of the year to date. A year ago the temperatures were about 30 degrees cooler. The high for the day was 40. Quite warm temperatures continued today and the high again was expected to climb into the 70s. Scattered showers and possible thundershowers are forecast for tonight and Friday with cooler temperatures. Low tonight will be 50 and the high Friday 58.

James Hoffa Puts Up Bail Of $25,000.

Attorney in Miami, Unionist's Secretary Also Are Under Arrest

WASHINGTON (AP)—James R. Hoffa, reputed to be the real power in the giant Teamsters Union, was arrested Wednesday night on a charge of trying to bribe a lawyer to feed him secrets from the Senate investigation into labor racketeering. He quickly posted $25,000 bond and was released pending a hearing March 28.

Almost simultaneously the Federal Bureau of Investigation arrested Hyman I. Fischbach, 47, a Miami, Fla., lawyer, on related charges of bribery. He made bond on the spot at his Coral Gables home and a hearing was set for him at 2:30 p.m. today.

Secretary Held

Also taken into custody, at Detroit, was Hoffa's 34-year-old secretary, Mrs. Dorothy P. Dobrescu, held only as a material witness. She was held under $5,000 bond on a detainer order which said there was a "likelihood she might flee... to avoid testifying."

Today Hoffa denied any wrongdoing and said he will "fight this case until I am cleared."

The union official left a conference with his attorney, Edward Bennett Williams, to read a brief statement to reporters.

Hoffa refused to answer questions, saying he didn't "want to try my case or present my defense in the newspapers."

"I have been in the labor movement all my life and have had to fight labor's battles on the picket lines and in the courts against the forces opposed to trade unionism," Hoffa said.

'Not First Instance'

"This is not the first instance when a labor leader has been unjustly accused."

The accusation against Hoffa, 44-year-old vice president of the Teamsters Union, was that he hired John C. Cheasty, a New York attorney, to get a job with the special Senate committee and provide Hoffa with information from committee files. The Senate group's inquiry so far has centered on teamster affairs.

Cheasty, the FBI announced, ostensibly took Hoffa's offer but actually informed the committee and the FBI and cooperated fully with them in the month since he was approached. The FBI said when Hoffa was arrested at his Washington hotel he had important committee papers which were delivered to him only a short time before.

The FBI did not immediately disclose the alleged connection of Fischbach and Mrs. Dobrescu with the matter.

Being Kept Under Wraps
Committee Counsel Robert Kennedy said Cheasty is being kept under wraps for the time being.

"The only way Mr. Cheasty can be reached is through the FBI at this time," Kennedy said.

He parried questions as to whether Cheasty will remain on the committee staff. "He's on the payroll," is all Kennedy would say.

The U. S. code section under which Hoffa is accused provides maximum penalties of three times the amount of an alleged bribe, three years imprisonment or both.

The FBI announcement said Cheasty got $1,000 and was promised a total of $18,000.

Hoffa's bond was provided by a professional bondsman.

Both the FBI and Committee Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) said Cheasty had cooperated fully in the monthlong investigation that led up to Hoffa's arrest.

Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said Cheasty worked as "a double agent."

The FBI said that when Hoffa was seized, "he had in his possession documents from the committee files which he had just received."

Soon after Hoffa's arrest, he was taken before U. S. Commissioner James Spain on charges of violating the federal bribery statutes.

Spain ordered Hoffa freed in

Portland DA Pleads Fifth Amendment

Langley Balks, Fails To Answer Questions Of Senate Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—William Langley, Multnomah County (Portland) district attorney, today invoked the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions before the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.

Langley noted he is under indictment in Oregon on conspiracy charges when he invoked the constitutional protection against being forced to give testimony that might be self-incriminating.

Langley was called to the witness chair in an atmosphere of tension and excitement stemming from the arrest Wednesday night of James R. Hoffa, vice president of the giant Teamsters Union on charges of scheming to plant a lawyer on the committee's staff to keep him informed of its plans and findings.

Committee 'Prepared'

In reference to this charge against Hoffa, Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) said the Senate Rackets Committee was prepared to meet any attempted interference from any source.

"We'll probably encounter other obstacles, other difficulties, more interference," McClellan said, "but I want to assure those who plan such courses that we'll meet them and accept the challenge and deal with them accordingly."

Sen. Mundt (R - SD) put in: "Goon squad methods applied to the U. S. Senate will not work."

Langley, a Democrat who was elected district attorney with backing from the Teamsters Union, gave the committee his background readily.

Takes Amendment

But when asked when he first met James B. Elkins, Portland, Ore., gambler, the 41-year-old district attorney said:

"I respectfully refuse to answer the question under my rights under the Fifth Amendment."

Elkins has been the major witness heard by the committee. He told the senators that some Teamsters Union bosses sought to "muscle in" on profits from Portland vice and rackets and were in alliance with Langley.

Langley, when he took the witness stand, said he was a native of Portland, born there in 1916.

He related that he had been associated with his father a former Multnomah County district attorney, in law practice and for a time was an assistant U. S. district attorney in Oregon.

Langley said he was elected district attorney for a term beginning in January 1955 with the term running to 1959.

Langley told the committee he himself is under indictment in Oregon under three charges of conspiracy.

Dispute Over New Posts

Courtright Under Attack by Bigelow

A salvo of criticism was hurled at Councilman-at-large John P. Courtright Jr. today by Safety-Service Director R. Guy Bigelow in a dispute over the employment of a sanitary engineer and two inspectors.

Mr. Courtright and four other councilmen Tuesday called a special meeting of City Council for tonight to set up qualifications for the three positions.

THE DECISION to hold the special meeting came the day after council unanimously adopted an ordinance creating the positions at its regular meeting Monday night.

The purpose of tonight's meeting, according to a letter sent to all councilmen, is to adopt an amendment to the ordinance adopted Monday night. The amendment is to set forth "the duties and qualifications for the positions of resident project engineer, project inspectors and city sanitary engineer."

MR. BIGELOW said today that he already has employed the sanitary engineer. He said he is Theodore Klingler of 323 S. Vine St., who has resigned his position with Floyd G. Browne and Associates, consulting engineers who made a survey of city sewer needs.

"If council doesn't have confidence in the service director to select a qualified man to do the work, then council should immediately recommend to the mayor that he request my immediate resignation," Mr. Bigelow said today.

Mayor Gale D. Ireland, fully supporting Mr. Bigelow, asked: "Why did Mr. Courtright vote for the ordinance (to create the positions) if he didn't feel the service director was qualified to hire people to fill the positions?"

Mr. Bigelow said: "The thing I resent and resent very much is that only after Mr. Courtright found out that he (Mr. Klingler) is a Browne man is he (Mr. Courtright) making every effort to use City Council, by this meeting tonight, to aid Mr. Browne to continue his stranglehold on the engineering services required by the city."

Mr. Bigelow said also: "In my opinion, Mr. Courtright has no question of the qualifications of a man as long as he works for Mr. Browne."

THE SAFETY-DIRECTOR also took issue with the purpose of tonight's meeting. Noting that the notification to the council states the proposed amendment is to establish duties and qualifications for a "resident project engineer" and "project inspectors," he said there are no such positions authorized. He pointed out that the ordinance adopted Monday night creates only the positions of sanitary engineer and two inspectors and does not state they shall be a resident project engineer or project inspectors.

But he added, that as he stated Monday night, the plans are to use the sanitary engineer and the two inspectors on the Indiana Ave.-Forest Lawn Blvd. sanitary sewer projects. They also would have the additional duties, during any free time, of locating cross-connections in city sewers, he said.

Mayor Ireland said today that: "We feel it is our responsibility to employ a qualified man and we intend as Mr. Bigelow stated at the council meeting Monday night, to assume full responsibility for employing qualified people."

THE MAYOR said that the plan to employ the sanitary engineer and the inspectors was for the purpose of saving money for the city.

He said he had talked to Floyd G. Browne on this point today and had asked him if "I wouldn't be remiss in my duties if I didn't try to save money for the taxpayers?" He said that Mr. Browne agreed that this was one of the mayor's duties.

Mr. Ireland said he further asked Mr. Browne how much it would cost the city if the sanitary engineer and the two inspectors were employed by Browne and Associates rather than the city.

Mr. Browne told him that the engineer would cost a total of $850 to $900 a month and each inspector would cost $700 to $750 a month.

No Need, Says Academy

Doctors Rule Out Mass Polio Shots

A poll of all schools within Marion County indicates a large percentage of the school children have received one or more polio shots and consequently a mass inoculation program is not necessary, the Marion County Academy of Medicine announced today.

Dr. J. T. Boxwell, president, said that the poll showed that 63 per cent of all school children have received one or more shots.

And a poll of doctors further disclosed that, out of 12,087 children enrolled in all city, county and parochial schools, an estimated 3,337 have completed the three-shot series.

The academy has decided on a two-point program for polio inoculations in Marion County, he added. The program is:

1. To urge all residents under 40, and especially children, to be immunized by their family physician.

2. To make it possible for any family, for whom the cost of the shots would be a hardship, to obtain them free at the well-child clinic at the Marion General Hospital.

Henry B. Hane, Former Civic Leader, Dies at 90

Henry Bell Hane, 90, a former president of the old Marion National Bank and a lifelong Marion resident identified many years with civic and business affairs, died at 4:10 p.m. Wednesday. His death occurred in his home at 750 E. Church St.

Until his retirement a number of years ago, he was an active participant in projects for the betterment of the community providing for its welfare and development.

He had been a member of the Harding Memorial Association executive committee, of the Country Club and of the Marion Club. A former member of Kiwanis Club also, he was a past president of the Marion Chamber of Commerce. He was a member of Epworth Methodist Church and was a past member of the Marion Cemetery Association.

Crashes Into Homes, Burns

22 Die After Giant Plane Overshoots in Approach to Runway

MANCHESTER, England (AP)—A Viscount commercial air liner, pride of Britain's commercial air fleet, plunged through three houses and burst into flames on landing here today. Twenty persons aboard perished, and a woman and child in one of the houses were reported missing.

A spokesman at Lancashire police headquarters said the plane "apparently overshoot the runway while coming into land and hit houses on a council estate (a suburban housing project). There were people inside the houses but we don't know how many."

The big ship, powered by four turbo-prop engines, was arriving from Amsterdam when it crashed. It belonged to British European Airways.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Coast and Geodetic survey today reported another "violent" earthquake in the Aleutian Island chain.

The survey said it was the seventh major quake in a series that began Saturday in the area.

Today's disturbance first was recorded on the survey's seismograph at 9:57 a.m. EST and was "still going strong" about an hour later, the survey reported.

Capt. Elliott Roberts, head of the survey's division of geophysics, said the recording needle was swinging so violently it had to be stopped.

The Columbia University's geological observatory at Palisades, N. Y., also recorded today's quake and described it almost as big as one last Saturday that set off a tidal wave in the Pacific.

Omnibus Banking Bill Praised by Sen. Bricker

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) today praised the omnibus banking bill as "excellent" and called on the Senate to vote for it without amendment.

The Ohioan, a member of the Banking Committee which drafted the 251-page measure, said it was "one of the most important we will consider during this session of the Congress."

Bricker said the measure would "merit enactment" just for its success in codifying present laws and removing obsolete provisions.

"For the first time," he said, "all the statutes governing banks, savings and loan associations, and credit unions are brought together in one bill."

The statutes are arranged in a more orderly manner, he said, and "a great deal of confusing statutory language has been eliminated."

But the Ohio senator said that the bill also was important for new provisions liberalizing conditions under which banks operate and setting up additional restrictions to permit the federal supervisory agencies to operate more effectively.

Some of the liberalizing sections, he said, will permit national banks to raise capital by issuing preferred stock, to make loans on the security of dairy cattle, frozen foods, and consumer installment paper, and to have broader authority for real estate and construction loans.

Government reporting requirements for national and federal reserve system member banks are simplified, he said.

Restrictive provisions added to the law by the bill, Bricker said, would tighten sections of the present statutes governing removal of officers and directors of national and member banks and strengthen the authority of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. to terminate insurance of institutions engaging in unsound practices.

The Ohio senator said one of the guiding principles in the bill was an effort to put federal savings and loan associations on an equal footing with national banks for the first time.

Legion Post Will Aid Veterans With Ohio Bonus Forms

Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162, American Legion, set up a volunteer service to help Korean veterans in filling out their Korean bonus forms at its meeting Tuesday night in the Dugout.

Starting Friday night and continuing each Friday night for several weeks, members of the post will be at the Dugout for several hours to assist veterans. The Dugout will open at 7:30.

Veterans are reminded that their original separation papers and the dates of their overseas service, the date they left the country and the date they returned, are vital in filling out the forms.

D. J. Malloy received a plaque for the second successive year for obtaining the most post memberships for the year. J. A. Dripps reported on the bowling team's participation in a state tournament at Canton last weekend.

Members were reminded of the observance of the 38th anniversary of the Legion to be held Friday with special radio broadcasts scheduled. Plans were made for a fish fry to be held Saturday night at the Dugout and for members to attend the Sixth District spring conference Sunday at Hebron.

Jesus Loved Them

By Patrick and Garrison

MATTHEW

"And as Jesus passed forth from thence, he saw a man, named Matthew, sitting at the receipt of custom: and he saith unto him, Follow me..."

—Matthew IX:9

Matthew, originally called Levi, was a native of Galilee, but Scripture does not say of which city, nor of which tribe of Israel.

Although a Jew, he apparently enjoyed the confidence of the Romans, whom he served as a publican or tax collector. His job was that of collecting custom duties and fees from persons and commodities that passed over the Sea of Galilee, or along the portion of the Damascus road that skirted it.

After Jesus called him to be an apostle, Matthew, who was evidently a man of means, gave a feast at his home. In addition to Jesus, who was probably guest of honor, he invited others of the disciples as well as several publicans and friends.

His idea in giving such a banquet would appear to be twofold: to mark the end of one way of life and the beginning of a new way as a disciple of Jesus; and to give his former companions an opportunity to know something of the new Gospel that had changed his life.

Matthew's personal story grows when seen in the perspective of his personal life and environment prior to his meeting Jesus: a man of education and wealth, the handler of money—that symbol of materialism and worldly greed—he had only to be bidden, "Follow me," and he turned his back resolutely and finally upon the past.

After the Ascension, Matthew remained in Jerusalem with the other Apostles. On the day of Pentecost, according to the Scriptural account, he received the gift of the Holy Spirit.

Christians are greatly indebted to Matthew for his version of the Gospel, in which he carefully preserved the words and parables of Jesus.

The Bible does not tell how long Matthew remained in Judea after the Ascension, but a fifth-century church historian relates that he was martyred in Ethiopia, where he had gone as a Christian missionary.

Polio Claims Boy Despite 3 Vaccine Shots

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis says a New Mexico boy is the first child positively known to have died of polio after three Salk vaccine shots.

The youngster, Tommy Mohr, Albuquerque, died last January. A foundation spokesman said the boy apparently was a rare individual upon whom the vaccine had no effect.

The spokesman said that doctors in Johns Hopkins Hospital at Baltimore confirmed that Tommy's death was due to polio. He said the youngster received his third shot four months before he contracted the disease and this ruled out any chance that he had become infected by the vaccine.

In three other cases reported of children dying of polio after vaccination, the foundation said, investigation showed the following:

One victim had not been vaccinated; a second died of another disease; and in the third case there had been no autopsy and thus no way to firmly determine that the victim had polio.

Too Much at Stake

The caution with which both the Democratic city administration and the Republican majority in City Council are approaching the question of inspection of sewer projects here certainly is justified.

The difference of opinion that apparently exists between them undoubtedly will cause a thorough airing of the subject, which should be beneficial.

There are a number of factors involved in this rather complex problem. But the central thought that should be kept in mind is that the overall sewer program as proposed in the engineering survey would cost more than $12,000,000, and no portion of it should be endangered by even the remote possibility of inadequate inspection.

A special meeting of council has been called for tonight to consider an amendment to an ordinance that was adopted Monday night. The ordinance authorized the employment of sanitary engineer and two inspectors.

The disagreement arises from the fact that at least a part of council now seeks to pin down the qualifications needed for the three positions by an amendment to the ordinance.

The safety-service director said Monday that an enumeration of the desired qualifications in the ordinance was unnecessary.

Whether the resident engineer is hired by the city or, as is the case in many cities, is furnished by the consulting engineer, there is absolutely no question that he should have outstanding ability and experience in his field.

There's too much at stake for anything less than the best.

Nine Out of Ten

The director of the budget, Percival H. Brundage, is one of the most important men in government, even though you do not know his name.

He was responsible for preparation of the now-famous $72 billion budget that will take $1,700 from each U.S. family, or the combined wages of a million manufacturing employees for the next 17 years, if their average incomes stayed where they are now.

Like John N. Garner, the former vice president, who says taxes cannot come down unless Congress quits appropriating so much money, Budget Director Brundage also has a strong opinion on the cost of government.

It is because nearly everybody wants something from the government, he explained to U.S. News & World Report when asked about budget troubles. Nine out of ten people who talk with him want more federal money.

Politicians never hear from the people who want nothing, so they concentrate on taking care of people who want something; hence gargantuan budgets. But even so, something could be done about them if the president had the right to veto individual items in appropriation bills. The way it is now, the president must sign the entire bill, or scuttle every item in it.

Budget Director Brundage might have pointed out a peculiarity of the "gimmie" psychology of the American people. They are not necessarily sore if they do not get what they ask for. Politicians are not necessarily penalized for failure to get handouts, although it would be political suicide to refuse to ask for them.

If congressmen were free to ask and the chief executive were free to refuse their demands, everybody would be happy, and the federal budget would be billions smaller.

Legal Scrimmage

No one can read the Supreme Court's reasoning in ruling 6-to-3 that professional football comes under antitrust laws, like professional boxing, although professional baseball still enjoys an exemption, without concluding that justices have bushed themselves in a historic scrimmage.

Justice Clark, speaking for the majority, admitted as much in this statement: "Were we considering the question of baseball for the first time upon a clean slate, we would have no doubts." It would be in the same fix as football.

But the slate has been marked with legal squiggles and latinized doodles going back to 1922 when the Federal League sued the National and American leagues as an illegal monopoly. For reasons that had bearing only on the circumstances of 35 years ago, the Supreme Court then upheld the National and American leagues.

The confusion was compounded in 1953 when the Supreme Court in effect upheld itself, never intending to uphold the idea that baseball was not in fact interstate commerce or that its practice of making players the property of the team originally selecting them was not in fact a restraint of trade. Yet, that has been the effect.

One conclusion now has been reached by all parties concerned — ballplayers, owners, legalists, legislators and the public. It is time to call time, put the Supreme Court on the sidelines and let Congress decide whether or not baseball, football and boxing companies can be saved only by exempting them from antitrust action.

That is a scrimmage that would leave legislators as battered and bruised as the justices of the Supreme Court. But it cannot be put off any longer.

'Doctrine' Vote Reveals Democratic Cleavage

Lawrence

Fully a week has gone by since the Senate passed the Eisenhower Doctrine Resolution and the vote revealed a serious cleavage inside the Democratic party. But this correspondent has noted a curious silence in the press dispatches on the fact that such a split has occurred.

If the Republican publican party had divided in the same way and a substantial number of Republican votes had been cast against the resolution, the air would have been filled for several days with outcries about the "failure" of the Eisenhower leadership and about the new strength of the so-called "isolationist" or "right wing" bloc in Congress.

But it so happens that 43 Republicans supported the Eisenhower Doctrine Resolution in the Senate and only 4 were against it. This is remarkable unanimity and a tribute to the Eisenhower leadership.

It so happens, on the other hand, that, although the Democrats control the Senate, only 31 Democratic senators voted for the resolution and 18 were recorded as against it.

DOES THIS MEAN that the Democrats now have an "isolationist" wing in the Senate and that the Republicans have abandoned their "isolationism"? If so, American prestige abroad — which we have been told "has sunk low" during the Republican era because of a fear of Republican isolationism — must be bouncing back upward.

Or is there a nervousness now in Britain and France and grave concern over the "isolationist" wave in the Democratic party which might bode ill for the whole foreign-aid program in Congress this year?

Again and again during the last campaign, the country was told by Democratic party spokesmen that the Eisenhower administration should not be returned to power because it could not command a united party.

Again and again Adlai Stevenson hammered away at that theme and many of the so-called "liberals" took it up in their writings. Much was said, too, to the effect that a President Eisenhower would not be able to control his own party in his second term because he wouldn't be running again and couldn't be of further use to Republican candidates in future elections.

BUT IT TURNS OUT that something sensational has happened. Never before has such unanimity prevailed in the Republican party on an international issue, with the possible exception of the vote in 1955 on the resolution authorizing the President to use the armed forces to protect Formosa.

It is significant, too, that, although the Formosa resolution was opposed in the Senate by only two Democrats and one Republican, apparently at least 15 Democratic senators now would refuse to give the President of the United States the same authority to use American armed forces to deal with troubled situations abroad.

The Democrats in the House of Representatives have not gone along with their colleagues in the Senate and under the statesmanlike leadership of Speaker Rayburn, voted in overwhelming numbers for the Eisenhower Doctrine Resolution. This only serves to emphasize the lack of unity among the Democrats in Congress as a whole.

SOME WORDS OF ALARM have been expressed by a few Democratic senators — who do favor international cooperation on the economic side and also military assistance where America is invited to aid — lest the growth of a Democratic party bloc in opposition to such policies may tend to hurt the position which the Democrats as a party have taken in the past.

Certainly the trend away from policies of international cooperation is noticeable among the Democrats in the Senate despite the valiant efforts of Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, majority leader, to keep the party in line.

A sizable bloc of Democrats is defying the leadership, and some of its members are talking like the Republican isolationists of the 1920's. They can hardly be classified as "modern Democrats."

This development is a discouraging one but it seems to have escaped the notice of the many writers who are always in the forefront of the critics of the Eisenhower administration with the vague charge that the State Department has "no foreign policy" or that it "lacks imaginative ideas."

Plenty has been written, moreover, about a trivial circumstance that occurred when the news dispatches from the Middle East happened to be good one day and Ike called this to the attention of the country in a casual remark during one of his speeches.

PLENTY HAS also been written about how the Eisenhower Doctrine "leaked" to the press before Congress could organize its committees and receive the information.

But when 18 Democrats out of 49 in the Senate repudiate the international policies of the party — as expressed in the Marshall Plan, the Truman Doctrine and in Korea — somehow or other there is a tendency in some quarters here to ignore a really important piece of news about a trend that could adversely affect the whole course of the United States in fighting the "cold war" against the Soviets.

Road Rabbits

By TRUMAN TWEILL

With a little bit of luck, I can become the king of the defensive drivers in this part of Smashemup, U.S.A.

A defensive driver is one who has adopted the philosophy of a rabbit: You must corner me to kill me, because I will not fight you.

We who have taken this credo to heart have lost all our automotive spunk. We will not challenge anybody for anything.

The way we see it, there is nothing to be won in a battle fought with two-ton missiles. We surrender.

The opposition can drive down the middle of the road if that is the way the opposition wants it, and we shall take our share on the berm, in a nearby field, or in a ditch.

No one can tease us into a competitive sprint to see who gets sidwiped when a traffic light changes, because even after it turns green on our side we are still looking for the would-be murderer getting ready to crash it from the other direction.

Moreover, anyone planning to catch us squeezing through on the change will have to do it from behind, because we'll be sitting there minding our own business, paying no attention to squealing tires, bleating horns and tinkling glass.

On the super-roads, our only concern will be to go fast enough to keep up with the slowest trucks. We are not curious about the speedometers on our engine-driven tumblers. All of us will get to the Big Speedway up in the sky soon enough without staging a match race to see who should get there first.

We have a weakness for roads that go around Robin Hood's barn if they are less hazardous than some high-speed chute that leads to the slaughterhouse.

Nothing stirs our enthusiasm like the prospect of being home and alive a week after all holidays, even if it means staying where we are while all holidays are in progress.

We are as skittish about weekend driving in nice weather as we would be about strolling through a thicket in a deer costume on the opening day of deer season.

Every horsepower over enough to pull the wagon strikes us road rabbits as being one more sleeping horse to be let lie, like a sleeping dog.

The slightest hint of failing brakes can throw us into a panic, but it does not bother us if the go-devil does not leap off the ground when we, pardon the expression, goose it.

We are only mildly curious about what lies over the next hill; we'll know soon enough.

The sound of the horn on our Morgagemoobiles is as embarrassing to us as a persistent hacking cough in church.

When everybody else has finished boasting about how quickly they went from A to Z we will make them look good by admitting we were still on the other side of Baited Breath while they were approaching Oblivion.

They may knock us off sometime while we're dawdling, but the Smashemup experts will have to slow down to catch us.

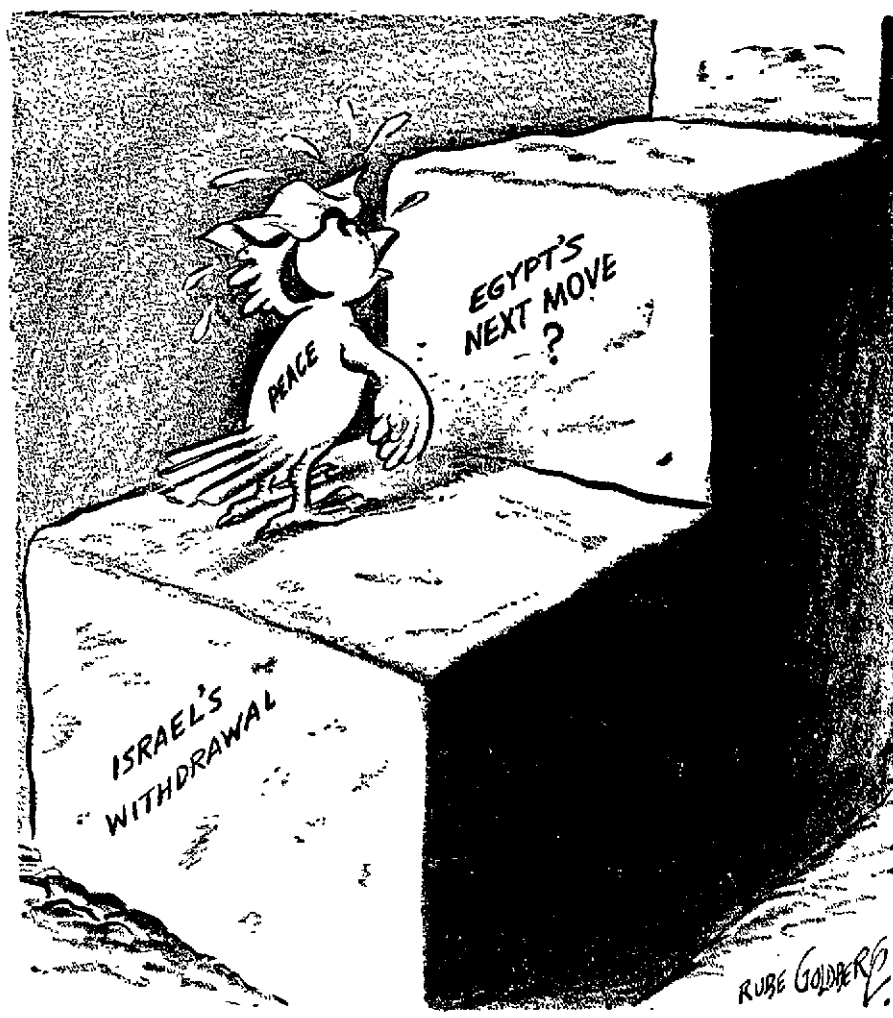

GRIN AND BEAR IT

A Big Step

Formula for Education

By Dr. Clark Goodman

Dr. Clark Goodman is assistant director of technical operations in the Atomic Energy Commission's division of reactor development.

Science continues to shrink distance, to increase leisure and comfort, to reduce manual labor, to widen communications and to open new vistas of the mind.

But we must pay for this expanding existence. We must learn more and learn it faster in this atomic age. And we must keep on learning in order to stay abreast of the times.

As Dr. Mortimer Graves, executive director of the American Council of Learned Societies, has said, "To keep pace with this new age the American must learn as long as he lives; terminal education and the undertaker will arrive on the same day."

Clearly then, we no longer can afford to gorge our minds with unnecessary details as we so often gorge our stomachs with unneeded food. We must increase our educational efficiency, as it were.

Reasoning must replace rote learning. The accumulation of facts about science and technology must be seen as secondary to the mastery of a scientific method of thinking.

The attainment of professional stature in science and engineering is best achieved through an orientation of mind and habit which begins in early childhood and follows continuously through high school and college.

WE MUST IMPROVE instruction by cutting away detail and by increasing emphasis upon fundamental principles and upon development of powers of judgment and discrimination in the formulation and application of these principles. It would, in effect, be a reduction in quantity in favor of quality.

You might call that I am proposing conceptual teaching as contrasted to factual teaching.

This approach is applicable to nearly all fields but is "essential" in the physical sciences. In brief, the student should be presented with the true educational essence of mathematics, physics and chemistry.

This does not mean that practical applications are ignored. Quite the opposite; for the ultimate all knowledge is first derived from experience. The relevance of fundamental knowledge to real situations must be understood and put to practical use.

However, in learning applied science the basic principles are often lost in a plethora of practical details. As a result the student finds it not only difficult to know where to hang his intellectual hat but he is also likely to forget where he hung it.

It is truly amazing how little we really need to remember and how much we can forget and still retain the true nourishment of a subject.

To illustrate: In classical mechanics as well as in the more modern wave mechanics, the principle of conservation of momentum is applicable without known exception.

The basic principle is certainly simple and it hardly seems necessary to defer acquaintance with it until the senior year in high school. Yet that was my experience and I believe such is still the case for most youngsters.

VALUABLE elementary school time is spent in teaching the child about temperature, presumably because he meets it so frequently in everyday life.

Actually, the concept of temperature, at least its true physical meaning, is much more difficult than momentum. Furthermore, because of its commonplace nature, temperature in the everyday sense is something the child will pick up easily outside of school.

We need a thorough updating of our textbooks. They contain too much scientific stuffing and not enough scientific meat.

There should be continuity in content from grade to grade.

For each group of textbooks there should be a teacher's companion reference book giving background information and perspective. Otherwise, how can we expect teachers to keep abreast authoritatively on the many new discoveries and developments of atomic age? Here is a real challenge to the textbook publishers.

The falling apple and the earth in its orbit are both familiar examples of the gravitational force which led Isaac Newton to the first real understanding of the natural laws of motion which bear his name.

Modern youth need not wait for maturity to learn of these principles and how they apply equally to the forward thrust of a jet plane or the recoil of a rocket ship. In fact, most youngsters listen more attentively if taught in terms of such examples.

IN THIS WAY we can actually expand rather than telescope the learning period. By beginning with an early introduction followed by a slow soaking-in period, the student will accept these concepts as natural laws rather than as esoteric educational hurdles along his path to knowledge.

As the understanding of the student gradually increases, we would broaden the definition of energy to include the various forms such as heat, chemical, electromagnetic, and mass (nuclear). Likewise, the means of transforming from one kind of energy to another would serve as familiar practical examples.

A number of important measures are being taken to try and fill the shortages of technical manpower and of technically trained teachers in the United States. However, none of these plans will really solve the problem until we have a thorough revision of our elementary and high school technical teaching.

It is not primarily a problem of more money for our teachers, though they need better pay. It is, however, primarily a problem of helping the teacher to know what to teach and to understand why it should be taught.

A PIANO was a tin pan; an accordion, a wheeze box; a bass viol, a dog house; names that have endured; whence came "Tin Pan Alley." Lost are gobgory for automobile; skiddoo and 23 as brushoffs and the oldtime funnies.

Such as Slim Jim, Katzenjammer Kids, Happy Hooligan, Klondike Twins, Maud and Si, Barney Google, and The Yellow Kid, pioneer of them all. Gone is the oil burning magic lantern with slides of Niagara Falls and the Chicago World's Fair. Gone are "Ish Kabibble!" "You're not the only pebble on the beach," "rubberneck."

"Ah there, just my size." It's the wolf whistle now.

Some of us act as though we were greater than the Father and wiser. Such will have to learn the hard way. "The Father is greater than I." John 14:28.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Return of 'The Georgia Peach'

("Ty Cobb is quitting California to return to his birthplace, Royston, Georgia.")—News item.)

On the last round of life's bases With no far-flung paths to roam, In the later innings, shadows There's the call to head for home. 'Tis the spell of brilliant cities And the roar of crowds afar Linger in one's recollection, Home is where the heart-tugs are.

There are thrills in epic battles In the big towns through the years; There is solace in the box score. And the tall, resounding cheers; Then the little town seems drab-like And a place forgotten fast . . . But it lights up bright and warming When the hectic day is past When you're hitting like a demon And you're running like a deer . . . And you're out there stealing bases On the pitchers far and near, Then "the sticks" seem unappealing— (Royston, Georgia, like the rest)— But there's bound to come a season When they all seem extra blest.

So it's home for Cobb the Mighty, Wearer of a "diamond" crown, As he thinks about his boyhood In a little Georgia town; Memories of sandlots dusty . . . Kids at play with wondrous dreams . . . How they draw a fellow homeward And the "place I came from" gleams!

Happiness attend you, Tyrus! You knew baseball's tallest heights; May you find joy back in Georgia Looking down a quail gun's sights, Crossing blue fields with a bird dog In the land of boyhood's fun, With the "peepers" and the crickets Chirping steadily, "WELL DONE!"

A LONG ISLAND WOMAN says her husband sneaked ravioli out of the house to give it to another woman. . . . His defense, presumably, is that in the matter of spaghetti and pizza pies he put the wife first.

Was that recent heave-ho of Jackie Gleason from the Stork Club a publicity stunt, with the usual lawsuits now in the hands of the press agents? We assume that Gleason was tossed out with a gay "Away we go!" Jackie denies he was boisterous or profane . . . (He didn't even have his bowling ball with him!)

Kwame Nkrumah, ruler of the new Gold Coast territory of Ghana, may look strictly native, but he is a graduate of American colleges. . . . He has a degree from the University of Pennsylvania.

Charles Van Doren, jackpot winner on TV's "Twenty-One" program, is smart but we bet he can be stumped on three questions: (1) What train do I take to get to Ebbets Field? (2) Where does one get the boat to Bedloe's Island? (3) Can you direct me to the George Washington Bridge?

Sid Caesar strikes us as the most original of current TV comics.

For generations visitors to New York regarded the Aquarium as one of the sights. . . . Torn down some years ago, a new one has been built (you'll never believe it) away out in Coney Island! It opens this summer and you will have to pay to get in. . . . This will mark the first time the fish and turtles will look over the house and wonder how they are doing.

Your grandma goes to the supermarket looking more like "September Morn" than any old-time Follies "dish."

News of Other Years

40 YEARS AGO — The 1,803 ton American Star line steamer, Algonquin was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine. The 26 crewmen, nine of them Americans, escaped with their lives. The ship had sailed from New York on Feb. 20, bound for London with a cargo of provisions.

Germans along the Western front reportedly were falling back, leaving the English to take the offensive. The fall of Bapaume, one of the main objectives of the British advance, was expected by nightfall. Already Germans were retreating, but not without a heavy artillery fire, however.

General Alvaro Obregon, the "strong man" in the Carranza government of Mexico resigned as minister of war in the cabinet and announced his intention to retire to private life.

20 YEARS AGO—Three persons, two of them a brother and sister, were killed instantly when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by an Erie passenger train at the Main St. crossing in McGuffey. The wreckage of the automobile was carried one mile by the train before it came to a stop. The deceased were residents of the Kenton area.

Pre-Easter services began at the Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church and several other city and county churches.

A home talent revival campaign at Ewerth Methodist Church started under the direction of Rev. Edward T. Waring, pastor. Music during the campaign was to be conducted by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ellis.

Howard Buckley, a student at Asbury College in Kentucky preached the evening sermon at the Oakland Evangelical Church. The morning service was to include a sermon by the pastor, Rev. Oscar V. Latta, entitled: "A Sure Foundation."

10 YEARS AGO — Records of the county's three draft boards reportedly were intact after a Senate committee voted in Washington to hold all draft records until June 30 because of the unsteady world situation.

Green Camp School joined with Marion city schools in closing for the day due to the high percentage of illness among students. Other county schools and St. Mary Parochial School carried on sessions, however.

Secretary Marshall reopened discussions of Germany's freedom at the Moscow meeting of the Big Four by stating that freedom from fear was vital to democracy. He urged such freedom in the democratization of Germany, a plea which fell on Russian ears deaf to the proposal.

Latest Gadget Keeps Eye on Cooking Meat

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — A glorified "meat thermometer" that automatically gives you roast or poultry exactly the way you want it—rare, medium or well-done—and then shuts off the oven is now on the market.

What's more, you don't even have to be at home to start the cooking process.

You can even check the progress on the "oven sentinel" and tell when it's time to put in the potatoes and set the vegetables to cooking.

The "thermometer" actually is an automatic roasting control and can be set for "rare," "medium" or "well done" at any temperature you prefer for different types of meat or fowl, such as beef, pork, lamb, ham, chicken or turkey.

A probe attached to the "oven sentinel" control is jabbed into the meat and the control plugged into a jack in the side of the oven.

When the meat is roasted exactly the way the cook ordered it, a light turns on or a buzzer sounds. The oven turns off, and dinner is ready, custom-made.

It completely eliminates "pound cooking"—figuring out time by weight—and has exact cooking control regardless of oven temperatures or the use of other timing devices on the stove.

Since it is completely independent of the automatic clock, you can set the "oven sentinel" for the desired degree of doneness and the automatic clock to start your cooking process while you are away from home. And even if you decide to stay out for a cup of coffee after the movie or club meeting, your roast will not overcook—it will be turned off when the degree of doneness is reached. And the heat will not turn on again as the oven cools.

Fire Loss Heavy

CINCINNATI (AP) — Officials of Stevens Furniture Co. say smoke damage to stock from an oil and grease blaze may reach $300,000. Damage from the fire Wednesday was slight, firefighters said.

Tot Dies in Fire

STUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Dora Pearl Wells, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wells, died in a fire that destroyed the Wells' two-story frame house five miles southwest of here Wednesday night.

Eight other children, ranging from two months to 16 years, were rescued, but Wells was unable to reach the second-floor bedroom where Dora was sleeping. The cause of the fire was being investigated.

Dies of Injuries

CINCINNATI (AP) — Joseph Meyer, 70, died in General Hospital Wednesday night of injuries suffered Feb. 26 when struck by a car at a city crossing.

Miss Luke Elected President By Altrusa Group in Marion

Election of officers for 1957-58, initiation ceremonies and a visit from Miss Alice Hook of Cincinnati, governor of District No. Five, highlighted the monthly business meeting of the Marion Altrusa Club, Tuesday evening in the parish house of the Forest Lawn Presbyterian church.

Miss Mary Martha Luke was chosen president and elected with her were Mrs. John Vestal, vice president; Mrs. Catherine Raub, recording secretary; Miss Marian Jenkins, corresponding secretary, and Miss Josephine Ruth, treasurer. Mrs. C. M. Rogers was elected a member of the board of directors.

Miss Luke has served as chairman and a member of a number of club committees and this year is serving as program coordinator. She is a member and past president of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs. Her business association is office manager with the R. D. Luke Hardware Co.

Presiding for the meeting was Mrs. E. O. Smith, president. Semi-annual reports of committee chairmen were given and Miss Gussie Smith, county home demonstration agent, was initiated into the club.

Miss Hook gave an informal talk on the district work of the club. Completing the program was a vocal duet, "Into the Light," by Miss Ferol Burley and Mrs. Roxie Whysall, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Rolin Montgomery.

During the social hour refreshments were served from a table decorated in a St. Patrick's Day motif. Serving as a hostess committee were Miss Ruth O'Connor, John H. Ruhl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. Ruhl of 148 Baker St., Marion, has pledged the Gridiron Club, one of the three social service organizations for men students at Phillips University in Enid, Okla. He is a freshman majoring in electrical engineering.

Social service clubs at Phillips are similar to fraternities on other campuses and sponsor service projects for the beautification of the campus or for the betterment of the university.

Carol Bachman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Paul Bachman of 607 King Ave. is playing French horn in the orchestra for "Kiss Me Kate," being presented at Denison University, March 15-16. She is a junior majoring in elementary education.

Phyllis Bush, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bush of Edison and Mrs. Darrell E. Denman of near Waldo, the former Jane Snyder of Marion, have been listed on the honor roll at Otterbein College, Westerville, for the first semester. To qualify for this honor students must attain at least a 3.3 average.

Leftist Leader Quits Position In Indonesia

Sastroamidjojo Steps Out of Premiership; Rebel Groups Confer

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Leftist Premier Ali Sastroamidjojo finally quit today. President Sukarno proclaimed a "state of war and siege," in effect recognizing rebel military leaders, and summoned them to Jakarta for talks.

The rebels have staged four bloodless coups in less than three months, taking over control of virtually all of this 3,000-island republic except Java. They defied the central government and demanded Sastroamidjojo's resignation, while generally pledging loyalty to Sukarno.

Lasts Less Than Year

The Premier's resignation was known to be imminent. The outgoing government had lasted less than a year, although Sastroamidjojo had a previous term as premier in 1953-55. He was ambassador to Washington in 1950-53.

Sastroamidjojo stepped down at a meeting in the presidential palace also attended by chiefs of the army, navy and air force.

Sukarno's emergency proclamation cited "the critical situation" throughout the country. He formally delegated governing authority to the district military commanders, who had already seized it in their four rebellions.

Fights Against Breakup

Sukarno faces the herculean task of trying to satisfy the rebellious islands' demands for autonomy — freedom from rule by the Jakarta government — and at the same time keep the far-flung republic from disintegrating into a loose federation of autonomous states.

The outer islands have long complained that the Javanese, who dominated the central government, were diverting the bulk of the proceeds and foreign exchange from Indonesian exports — much of it from the outer islands — to Java's benefit and were lagging in developing the other areas.

One suggestion has been that Sukarno form a presidential government with former Vice President Mohammed Hatta, a Sumatran and the other leading hero of the 1945 revolution.

Hatta, a moderate, broke with the President last December and resigned his vice presidency but the two have shown signs recently of getting together again.

St. Patrick's Day Buffet Supper Idea

Fresh Grapefruit Gives Sweet-Tart Flavor to This Molded Salad

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Buffet supper time on St. Patrick's Day! What's on the menu? Start with a hearty potato chowder, in honor of Erin, and go on to baked ham and a big beautiful molded salad — green, of course — with the fresh, sweet-tart taste of grapefruit in it.

We're giving you two recipes for the salad; one uses unflavored gelatin, the other lime-flavored gelatin. Our own taste would choose the first — but suit yourself!

GRAPEFRUIT SALAD MOLD, NUMBER ONE

Ingredients: 1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese, 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 3/4 cups canned unsweetened grapefruit juice, 3 cups drained fresh grapefruit sections, 1/4 cup diced pimiento, salad greens.

Method: Form cream cheese into 8 small balls; chill. Mix together the gelatin, sugar and salt in a saucepan. Add 1 cup of the grapefruit juice. Place over moderate heat, stirring occasionally, until gelatin is thoroughly dissolved. Remove from heat; add remaining 2 1/2 cups grapefruit juice. Stir in enough green food coloring to tint. Chill. Arrange a few of the grapefruit sections, cream-cheese balls and pieces of pimiento in a 5 cup ring mold to make an attractive design. Spoon in a little of the chilled gelatin and chill until almost firm. Chill remaining gelatin until the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Fold part of the management engineering training program. They were Ernest C. Martin, Robert E. Clingo and Nicholas A. Cafagno.

Four employees attended classes in Army industrial fund appreciation at the University of Toledo. They were Mrs. Ruby M. Ridgway, I. Wesley Bishop, James M. Hart and Jack Davis Nelson.

Paul R. Anderson and Ernest C. Martin studied techniques of review and analysis at the Finance School, U. S. Army, Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind.

Raymond T. Faute attended classes at New York University, where he studied a course of safety engineering for the U. S. Army.

The Department of the Army and the Marion Engineer Depot have been placing emphasis upon training and educating employees in methods and ways of doing their specific jobs.

Donald R. Allen has completed a course in conference leadership given by the Army Civilian Training Center at the Pentagon, Washington, D. C.

Delmer G. Hinamon completed the joint military packaging course phase 1, offered by the Rossford Ordnance Depot, Toledo.

Three employees attended classes at Rock Island Arsenal, offered as in 1 1/2 cups grapefruit sections and remaining pimiento. Spoon into mold; chill until firm. Unmold and fill center with salad greens, remaining grapefruit sections and cream-cheese balls. Makes 8 servings.

Note: For a delicious variation, mold a small pecan or walnut half in each cream-cheese ball. Serve this salad the same day it is made; it may stiffen too much if held overnight.

Arlington Service Is Held for Byrd

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arlington National Cemetery, where the nation's heroes rest in peace beside a quiet river, was the final port today for Richard E. Byrd, admiral of the polar wastes.

The 68-year-old reserve rear admiral — first man to fly over both the North and South poles and, in the words of President Eisenhower, "one of the truly great explorers of all time" — died Monday night at his Boston home.

The national colors flew at half-staff on the ships at sea and the stations ashore, including the lonely, faraway American outpost in the antarctic where Byrd earned his greatest fame.

ten services will include a series of study meetings on the history, doctrine and ritual of the Episcopal Church by Miss Gorham. The first meeting will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the parish house. Miss Ammann conducted the devotions and Mrs. Maginn presided for the meeting.

The program was presented on Monday night in the parish house for members of St. Cecilia's Guild. Presiding was Mrs. Fanny Benson.

Pays Court Costs

CLEVELAND (AP)—A check for $3,934.08 to pay for the costs of the murder trial of Dr. Samuel Sheppard was given to Cuyahoga County Wednesday by his brother, Dr. Stephen A. Sheppard. Dr. Samuel Sheppard is serving a life term in the Ohio Penitentiary for the slaying of his wife, Marilyn. Convicted defendants are billed for the costs of their cases.

During the social hour a handkerchief shower was held for Mrs. Mary Elsie Smith of Leicester, England, a member of the class the last several months. She is returning to her home March 27. LUXURIOUS BEAUTY —
PRACTICAL COMFORT

Beauty and practicality must go hand-in-hand if a room is to be completely livable. This is especially true of the floor coverings.

Happily, this combination is not hard to come by today. Modern science, now applied to the materials and technique of carpet weaving, has provided us with a whole new concept of floor treatments . . . deeper, bouncier pile, colors that stay, and new soil resistance.

Floor coverings may be mono-chromatic or multicolored, depending on personal taste, and the effect you wish to achieve.

While there is a wide, wide range of colors available today, more than ever before, it is well to remember that all colors are not obtainable in all price brackets, so we suggest you make sure that the color you want for your rug or carpet is procurable, then go ahead and apply your color scheme to the other decorating elements in your room.

The room sketched was planned around the "raspberry" carpeting. The large expanse of warm color was cooled down by painting the walls white tinged with ice blue. Nutmeg finish maple furnishings are all authentic reproductions. Black rocker adds accent.

Whether you're looking for just a small area rug, or carpeting for your entire home, you'll find just what will please you and your budget in our wide assortment of wool, rayon viscose and nylon floor coverings. Come in today,

Queen Honors Prince Philip's Ex-Secretary

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II personally bestowed the Royal Victorian Order today on Cmdr. Michael Parker, close friend and former secretary of Prince Philip. Parker was secretary to the Queen's husband for nine years. He resigned earlier this year when the news got out that he and his wife had separated.

Parker at the time was accompanying the prince on his round-the-world tour. The secretary said he did not want to embarrass the crown, which traditionally opposes divorce.

The resignation was followed by publication of rumors current for some time that there was trouble between the Queen and Prince Philip.

These were denied, and the Queen flew to Portugal for a state visit. Philip met her there and the visit turned into something akin to a second honeymoon.

When they returned to London
she gave him the title of Prince Philip.

The Royal Victorian Order is awarded for "personal services to the sovereign."

A do-it-yourself type down the street reports that his little boy's space helmet is ideal to wear while painting the ceiling.

Chicago Youth Admits Fatally Beating Negro

Gang Member Tells Detective Attack Was Made 'for No Reason'

CHICAGO (AP) — A 17-year-old white youth was held by police today after, they said, he orally admitted fatally beating a Negro high school student for "no reason."

Chief of Detectives Patrick J. Dealey said Joseph Schwartz, a railroad freight caller, admitted attacking Alvin Palmer, also 17, as he waited for a bus Monday night. He said he did not know Palmer and police said when they asked Schwartz why he struck the Palmer he replied "no reason." Palmer died about 10 hours after the attack.

14 Others Rounded Up

Police rounded up 14 other teenagers for questioning in connection with the hammer slaying. Schwartz and 11 others were held without charge for further interrogation. Three 16-year-old juveniles were released.

Frank Ferlic, assistant state's attorney, said all the youths picked up are members of a gang known as the "Rebels," living in the Southwest Side district where the attack occurred.

Ferlic said different versions of the attack were given in the questioning of the youths. He said Schwartz and 12 of his companions had met Monday night at a candy store, drove in two cars to a playground and then started driving around the district. Schwartz was with six youths in one car, Ferlic said. They saw the negro youth standing at the bus stop.

Had Hammer Under Jacket

Ferlic said one of the occupants of the car, not identified, said "there's one," and Schwartz got out. Ferlic said Schwartz had taken a mechanic's hammer from another youth and carried it under his jacket.

The assistant state's attorney said one version of the slaying was that the other six youths joined Schwartz at the bus stop and all seven surrounded Palmer. Ferlic said Schwartz struck Palmer with the hammer and also struck William Johnson, 41, who also was waiting for a bus and attempted to interfere. The gang then fled.

Police said Schwartz' arrest Wednesday was credited to Detective Joseph Milcice, 26, who lives in the neighborhood, in which both negroes and whites live. As police rounded up his companions, they also said they found the hammer used in the slaying.

Police said Schwartz' father, William, 47, a milk wagon driver, told them Joseph and another son, William Jr., moved from home two weeks ago. He said Joseph had not been in trouble before, either with police or school officials.

Kenton Man Told To Refund Money

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Federal Judge Frank L. Klob Wednesday ordered a Kenton, Ohio, man to refund $6,000 that a Pennsylvania man paid him for representation in an internal revenue case.

Paul W. Glenn of Sharon, Pa., had paid the money to Andrew T. Durbin of Kenton in the belief Durbin was a lawyer and in a position to give legal services in connection with criminal and civil tax suits pending against Glenn in 1949.

But Judge Klob ruled Durbin was in no position to render the legal services and should refund the money plus interest.

Nixon's Party Grounded as Engine Fails

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP) — The plane bringing Vice President Nixon to Libya was forced to return to Khartoum today by a partial engine failure.

The U. S. Air Force plane carrying the vice president was 90 minutes out of the Sudanese capital when trouble developed in its No. 2 engine. The plane turned back.

Nixon's plans to visit Tobruk to meet King Idris of Libya were shelved temporarily. He may fly on directly to Tripoli for a visit to the American Wheelus Air Base after the engine has been repaired or may change his plans further.

Before leaving Khartoum, Nixon said Sudan has not decided yet whether to support President Eisenhower's Middle East doctrine. Sudanese Premier Abduh Khalil expressed interest in obtaining U. S. aid, particularly for improving the country's roads and water supply.

Nixon received the coolest reception of his African tour in Khartoum. Khalil welcomed him at the airport, but fewer than 5,000 spectators watched impassively along the route as the American plane drove two miles to the presidential palace.

The Communists, who wanted to boycott the visit, distributed Red leaflets reading: "Go out of our country, Nixon."

Nixon reminded the Sudanese that the United States had supported their drive for independence.

Quered by newsmen about the leaflets, Nixon suggested that the Sudanese Communists "print some leaflets and take them to Hungary and demand that the Russians go home so the Hungarians could have independence like the Sudan."

Well Driller Hits Supply of Water

CORNELIUS, Ore. (INS) — Well-drillers increased the problems of Henry Neukirch, a farmer near Cornelius, but he isn't complaining.

The well-drillers brought in an artesian well that spouts 100 gallons of 60-degree water a minute. Neukirch originally wanted more water for his 80-acre dairy farm. He summarized his problem this way:

"With water that warm, the grass on my pasture land would just grow and grow. On the other hand, I might be able to kiss the cows good bye and go to raising strawberries like nobody ever saw before."

Driller Lance Strayer of the firm of Strayer and Barron said the firm worked on the well more than two months before reaching water 742 feet below the surface.

The water was on top of a reef of black basalt, he explained.

At 69 a foot, Neukirch was ready to give up when the drill reached the 500-foot depth. Water experts said water really was down there.

So Strayer offered to continue drilling with no charge unless he hit water.

Neukirch will have to settle an other problem, too, before long—whether to install a pump and try to get more water yet out of the well or build a dam and make a pond.

He said: "Once that's settled, I'll look forward to some warm-water farming that I only need to keep my eye on about six months of the year."

Full House

LOGAN, W. Va. (AP) — Charlie Bias, retiring after 24 years as county jailer, figured his most vivid memory was a weekend in 1937 when 37 persons were jailed. It was so crowded that 53 men had to be put in the bullpen together. That meant standing room only—and frequent fights.

"The skirmishes kept my officers and myself busy trying to maintain a semblance of order," Bias recalled.

Refrigeration Men Meet at Marion Plant

Some 140 members of the Columbus Chapter of the Refrigeration Service Engineers Society held their regular meeting Wednesday night at the Marion division plant of Tecumseh Products Co.

In addition to a 30-minute business meeting, the members were taken on a guided tour through the local plant. The members were shown the compressor assembly operation and the precision manufacturing methods used for compressor parts.

The Columbus chapter has a total of 200 members and is one of 200 such organizations throughout the nation.

The chapter has a three-year educational program for its members and the visit to the Marion plant last night was part of this program.

In addition to the tour, W. W. Higham, general manager of the Marion division plant, spoke to the group outlining the operation of the plant.

Refreshments were served to the group at the close of the meeting. Ivan Stepanick, educational chairman of the Columbus chapter, presided and was assisted by W. C. Richardson, service manager at the local plant.

oldest, Master Mason in Marion. For many years his central fraternal interest was in the local branches of the order and he figured prominently in affairs of Marion Lodge 70, F&M, Marion Chapter 62 RAM, Marion Council 22, R&SM and Marion Commandery 36, Knights Templar. He also was a member of the consistory of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of the Valley of Columbus. He was presented his Masonic 50-year award in 1937 and qualified for the 50-year pin in each of the three branches of chapter, council and consistory in 1938.

Other fraternal connections included membership in Marion Lodge 32, BPO Elks, and Knights of Pythias.

At one time he was vice president and treasurer of the Marion Implement Co.

Under Gov. George G. Nash of Ohio he was one of two electors from this congressional district to elect William McKinley President of the United States in 1900.

Born in Marion on April 21, 1866, he was a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Jacob Hane. His father was a former resident of Stark County and his mother, the former Miss Melissa Bell, was born in Erie County.

Representing a succeeding generation in the banking business here, he followed the career of his father who had been a president of the old Farmers and Mechanics Bank which became later, in 1864, the First National Bank. He completed his education in Marion, having been graduated from the old Marion High School in 1884.

On Oct. 14, 1897, he married Miss Ava Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wilson of Marion, in Epworth Church.

Surviving are two sons, John J. Hane of the E. Church St. address and Henry Wilson Hane of New York City; one grandchild, two great-grandchildren, and two sisters, Miss Florence A. Hane of 419 E. Church St. and Mrs. Orlando S. Rapp of 213 S. Greenwood St. Preceding him in death were two sisters and a brother, Miss Alice M. Hane, Walter E. Hane and Mrs. Joseph M. Gaites.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at 10 a.m. in the Merle H. Hughes Mortuary on Mt. Vernon Ave. Rev. Sheridan T. Walker, parish minister of Epworth Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Marion Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after 7:30 tonight. Pallbearers will be members of the Masonic bodies.

Revised Laws Slated in Ohio On Ambulance

House Studies Rules Covering Emergency Vehicles on Highway

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio House today gave private ambulances a blanket classification as emergency vehicles.

The unanimous action, correcting an omission by the previous Legislature, was the major action before law-makers adjourned for the weekend.

Sponsors of the change said that the omission two years ago designated private ambulances as emergency vehicles only when under orders of a policeman or fireman.

Statehouse wags have been knocking themselves out over the title to the ambulance bill: "Devine-Lady-Miss McGovern." That means it is sponsored jointly by Reps. Andy Devine (D-Lucas), Joseph E. Lady (R-Hardin) and Frances McGovern (D-Summit).

The same bill undertakes to define a legal crosswalk, but adds that cities shall have the right to prohibit crosswalks at any point to control pedestrian traffic.

Insurance Bill Killed

Top legislative development Wednesday was the failure of private insurance firms in a new attempt to crack the state workmen's compensation monopoly. The House Insurance Committee, by a 7-6 vote, killed a bill to allow Ohio employers to buy protection for injured workers from private companies.

The workmen's compensation law — which remains undisturbed — gives the Ohio Industrial Commission a monopoly on injury insurance.

In other actions Wednesday: Airport Leases

The Senate adopted a resolution by Sen. Charles J. Carney (D-Mahoning) recognizing the Eastern Orthodox Church as one of the four major faiths in Ohio. The resolution now goes to the House.

The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill to permit commissioners in Scioto and other counties to lease county airports for 20 years instead of renewing contracts every year.

The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill authorizing employment of assistants to county law librarians.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill to set the fee for issuing or renewing all teacher certificates at $2. They now cost $1 to $5.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill to permit bordering farms to tap lines carrying city water to county institutions.

Cuba

Apparently operating under pre-arranged plans, one group immediately charged into the palace while other attackers took cover in nearby buildings and laid down a curtain of protective fire.

Shooting also broke out in other parts of the city. Palace guards went into action and word was flashed to Columbia barracks, eight miles away, for help. Tanks and troops quickly poured into the city, cordoned off the palace area and opened a counterattack.

Baista, Cuba's ex-sergeant-at-arms, was eating a late lunch on the second floor of the palace when the shooting started. After riding out the fighting on the floor beneath him, he went to his private office and directed the army counterattack.

The FBI said Hoffa "is reported to have hired" Cheasty Feb. 13 in Detroit, Hoffa's home city, to obtain a job with the special committee.

Man Finds Honey Moon Interrupted by Police

SCOTTSVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Arthur Lestman Bartelson's honeymoon lasted one week — the time it took the police to catch him.

Bartelson, 28, was released from jail for the courthouse ceremony, then returned to his cell.

As the days went by, his wife worked as a waitress. He too was busy — using a bed railing to dig a hole through the jail wall.

He escaped, picked up his bride and left town. Police found him in distant Iowa and brought him back.

A Long Belt

MILWAUKEE (AP) — You never get away from the fact that this is the home of the Milwaukee Braves and County Stadium.

For instance, a sign in front of an east side restaurant reads: "Kalt's, 29,952 feet N.E. of Home Plate."

GOOD REPUTATION

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP) — Florida officials asked Bowling Green police to check the background of a young man scheduled to take a bar examination in that state. Det. Harry Ashby looked him up and found his record exemplary. The man was born in Bowling Green in 1931 — and moved away at the age of 18 days.

Takes Office in July

Vernon Street Elected Rotary Club President

Vernon L. Street was elected president of the Marion Rotary Club for 1957-58 at a meeting of the board of directors Wednesday night at Hotel Harding.

Mr. Street, who currently is serving as vice president, will take office as president in July. He will succeed Lewis Ashworth. John A. Maxwell Jr. was elected vice president and Harold W. Hall was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Street, owner of the Street Pattern Works the last 14 years, has been in pattern manufacturing 30 years. He is a member, past director and past vice president of the Marion Foremen's Club, a member of the Chamber of Commerce, Methodist Church and the Marion Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Street reside at 100 Rosedale Rd. in Vernon Heights. They have two daughters — Mrs. John Boxwell of Marion and Miss Jane Street, who is a school teacher at Parma Heights, O.

Rotary directors nearing the completion of their three-year terms are Mr. Ashworth, William Hamor and Clare Williams. Other members of the present board, in addition to Mr. Street and Mr. Maxwell, are Arthur Haas, Perry J. Bachelder, Wayne H. Kuhn and Ralph T. Lewis. Ralph Howard, immediate past president, and Mr. Hall are ex-officio members.

VERNON L. STREET To Succeed Lewis Ashworth

Recently named to the board for three-year terms, beginning in July, were Dr. Charles W. Wilson, Robert A. Bagley and Maurice V. Cornell.

Hoffa

$25,000 bond pending a hearing before the commission March 28. Hoffa's lawyer protested the bond was excessive. After the proceeding, Hoffa declined comment.

After announcing Hoffa's arrest, the FBI said it had arrested Hyman I. Fischbach, 47, a Miami lawyer, on bribery charges. The department said Fischbach, who was named in Coral Gables, Fla., was named with Hoffa in a complaint filed with U.S. Dist. Judge Richmond B. Keech.

At the same time, Hoffa's 34-year-old secretary, Mrs. Dorothy P. Dobrescu, was arrested as a material witness by FBI agents who swooped down on her Detroit apartment.

She was held under $5,000 bond on a detainer order which said "there is likelihood she might flee and leave the continental limits of the United States to avoid testifying." Neither she nor her attorney would comment.

Mrs. Dobrescu, not named a defendant, was taken into custody shortly before midnight. Her husband, Frederick J., was in a bathtub in their northwest Detroit home.

Neither the FBI nor committee provided information on roles allegedly played by Fischbach or Mrs. Dobrescu.

McClellan said the alleged bribe by "Mr. Hoffa is clearly indicative of the steps that the gangster elements are undertaking and will continue to undertake to hinder, hamper, obstruct and destroy this committee."

New Turn

The arrest of Hoffa, head of the Central States Conference of Teamsters, marked a dramatic new turn in the Senate probe, which thus far has been concentrating on allegations that West Coast Teamster officials allied themselves with underworld figures and some public officials in an effort to control vice and gambling.

Thus far, Hoffa's name has not figured in the committee's hearings, although the Senate investigations subcommittee—which began an earlier probe along the same lines — announced in September it planned to talk with him.

The FBI said Hoffa "is reported to have hired" Cheasty Feb. 13 in Detroit, Hoffa's home city, to obtain a job with the special committee.

Offered $18,000

"At that time," the FBI said, "Hoffa paid Cheasty $1,000 and offered to pay him a total of $18,000 to report to him during the committee's investigation."

McClellan said in a statement: "The information came to us more than a month ago that Mr. Hoffa was undertaking to plant some one on the committee's staff to represent him, to give him information, to keep him informed of the committee's plans and of any information the committee might obtain or possess that would be of interest to him."

Kennedy said Cheasty had been on the committee staff for about three weeks.

He described the documents involved in the case as "extremely important." He said they were given to Cheasty by the committee in the knowledge that they would be passed along.

Documents involved, Kennedy said, were "two staff interviews with certain key people, a copy of a telephone interview between a member of the staff and a future witness, and other documents."

The FBI said Cheasty "fully cooperated" in the investigation. McClellan voiced gratitude to Cheasty "for his great courage and patriotic devotion." He said pital. No questions will be asked and referral from the family physician is no longer necessary.

The well-child clinic, sponsored by the Woman's Hospital Board, is open on the first, second and fourth Tuesdays of each month and polio shots will be given at 10 a.m.

CITY AND COUNTY nurses conducted the poll in all city, county and parochial schools with cooperation of school officials. Statistics were recorded in each classroom.

Dr. Boxwell said the poll disclosed that there are 4,498 school children who have received no shots. This represents 37 per cent of all children enrolled in schools, he explained.

Results of the poll of doctors indicate that all three shots have been received by approximately 3,287 pre-school children, 3,672 persons up to age 40, and 346 persons above 40.

Approximately 4,000 more have received either their first or second shot, Dr. Boxwell said. He added that there is no way of knowing the exact number of persons between school age and 40 who have been inoculated.

NATIONAL POLIO Foundation estimates indicate that 12 to 15 per cent of the population refuse shots of any kind. This would mean that 20 to 25 per cent of Marion County's school children remain to be inoculated, Dr. Boxwell said.

He said the academy has recommended that the charge for shots be limited to $3.50 each. Many physicians already are charging less than that for large family groups, he said. He said he knows of no local physicians who are charging more than the recommended limit.

The academy strongly urges those who have had their first and second shots to contact their family physician no later than the middle of June in order to complete their inoculations before the height of the polio season.

The academy further urges that those who have no polio shots start their program of inoculations immediately in order to gain maximum possible protection before the polio season.

Highest incidence of polio in this area has been in the period from July through September.

"The residents of Marion County deserve a great deal of credit for their response and cooperation in making the polio inoculation program so successful," said Dr. Boxwell.

100 Flee Fire

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Firemen used aerial ladder trucks to rescue some 100 office workers Wednesday when fire broke out in the four-story Paramount Building in downtown Toledo. The blaze was confined to a shoe store on the street level.

Damage was estimated at $40,000 by Fire Chief Arnold Papenhagen. No one was injured.

Ike To Depart For Bermuda

President Will Board Naval Vessel Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower sails tonight aboard the guided missile cruiser, Canberra on a leisurely six-day voyage to Bermuda.

He hopes the trip will benefit his health, clearing up a stubborn cough, head cold and ear infection. He told his news conference yesterday he was "some better."

The President arranged an afternoon one-hour flight to the naval air station at Norfolk, Va., for transfer a bit later to the big warship.

The plan is for the Canberra to meander lazily for six days and nights, mainly in warm gulf-stream waters, and arrive at Bermuda next Wednesday, afternoon.

A week from today in Bermuda, Eisenhower will start four days of talks with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

House Studies Being Held on Highway Costs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio legislators continue hearings next week on a bill requiring the state to pay costs of relocating utility facilities displaced by new interstate highways.

Hearings opened Wednesday night before the House Commerce-Transportation Committee.

Committee members were told that, unless federal funds are used to pay relocation costs, they will have to be absorbed by utility customers.

Fred M. Pichens, Columbus utility director, pointed out that utility firms and municipalities that own utilities can be reimbursed from funds under the federal aid law. Reimbursement would be subject to enactment of a state law. Utilities now pay the costs.

Clarence Poleni, assistant vice president of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., said if the companies and cities are not reimbursed, "the charge must be passed on to the consumer."

Bigelow

month, the mayor said. The council ordinance creating the engineer and inspector posts set the pay at $650 a month for the engineers and $15 a day for the inspectors.

PREVIOUSLY, Mr. Bigelow had estimated that a sanitary engineer employed by Browne and Associates would cost the city some $1,100 a month. He based this figure on a letter to him from Mr. Browne which stated Browne and Associates would employ the resident engineer for the Indiana Ave.-Forest Lawn Blvd. project at the cost of the man's salary plus payroll expense plus 40 per cent.

Mr. Bigelow, in requesting the authority to employ a sanitary engineer, said he could employ one for $650 a month salary plus other administrative costs which he said would boost the total cost for the position to about $775 a month.

The mayor said also that Mr. Browne had told him it would be necessary to have no less than two inspectors and perhaps three may be needed on the Indiana Ave.-Forest Lawn Blvd. jobs.

Deaths and Funerals

Mrs. M. E. Westervelt

KENTON — Mrs. Anna Marie Westervelt, 78, of New Washington died at the Scott Rest Home in Bucyrus at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday.

She was born in Hardin County, the daughter of Conrad and Katherine Klein Boeher. Her husband, Maurice E. Westervelt, preceded her in death on April 10, 1949.

She was a member of the Blocktown Evangelical Lutheran Church. Surviving are one son, Dana of Kenton; two daughters, Mrs. Helen Hayes of New Washington, and Mrs. Katherine Sargent of Whitehall; 11 grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the Blocktown Lutheran Church at 10:30 a.m. Friday with Rev. H. J. Knauff officiating. Burial will be in Dola Cemetery. The body is at Price Funeral Home in Kenton where friends may call.

Arthur G. Wisner

CAREY—Arthur G. Wisner, 77, of 4 1/2 miles northeast of Carey died at 6:05 this morning at Memorial Hospital in Bradenton, Fla., where he was vacationing. He had been seriously ill two weeks with a kidney ailment.

He was born in Wyandot County to James and Florella Bilger Wisner. His marriage to Flora Waltermire took place July 11, 1903. She survives with three sons, James Vitalis Wisner and George Lavaun Wisner of Carey and Edward Lavera Wisner of Arlington, five grandchildren; one brother, Warren Wisner of Findlay, and one sister, Mrs. Alma Thomas of northeast of Carey. One child died in infancy.

Mr. Wisner was a farmer. He was a member of the Oddfellows Lodge of Carey, the encampment here, the Canton Rank of the Oddfellows at Findlay and the EUB Church west of Carey.

The body will arrive in Carey Saturday morning and will be taken to the Goff Funeral Home where funeral arrangements will be completed.

Mrs. Jack Coots

MOUNT VICTORY — Mrs. Olive T. Coots, 56, of Mount Victory died Wednesday at 10:45 p.m. in the home of her brother, Frank Taylor of Marysville. She was 11 months. A graduate of the Youngstown City Hospital school of nursing, she had spent most of her time in her profession at San Antonio Hospital in Kenton.

Born April 23, 1900, in LaRue, she was the daughter of Edward and Marie Wooley Taylor. Her husband, Jack Coots, died some time ago. She was a member of the Mount Victory Methodist Church, of the Woman's Society of the church, of the Ohio Registered Nurses Association and of Clarence Golden Post, American Legion, in Mount Victory.

Surviving with her brother are two nieces, Patty and Mary Taylor and two cousins, Mrs. Alice Hart of Mount Victory and Everett Cronley of Grove City.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Mackey Funeral Home in Mount Victory. Rev. William Allen will officiate. Burial will be in Hale Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 tonight.

Strife in AFL-CIO By Victor Riesel

VICTOR RIESEL

Those peccable Portland teamsters so devoted to public game entertainment may have tilted the whole AFL-CIO to an angle where it can't help but topple and split in two.

Across this land, even in the outer sanctums of labor, the informed union men are saying openly that war seems inevitable between the powerful teamsters and an equally powerful band led by George Meany, Walter Reuther, Jim Carey and David Dubinsky. And it may be violent.

Talk of this was as animated as Dave Beck was irritated during his brief but ludicrous moment here at Midway Airport.

This battle may come after the Senate hearings which are being carefully monitored by the national labor chiefs. Jim Carey, for example, receives a bulky transcript daily of the racy proceedings.

Soon the AFL-CIO's national leaders will ask the Teamsters Brotherhood to move against those of its officials who have taken the Fifth—refused to answer on the grounds that they might incriminate themselves.

THIS THE HIGH command must do. And will do—for in an extra large type on the front cover of its national magazine, The Federationist, this week is the legend:

"No person should hold or retain office or appointed position in the AFL-CIO or any of its affiliates."

And what's the beginning of a good wooden ship?

"The acorn, of course," said Upham. "It's honest oak that we need to withstand the corrosion of salt water, and the battering of the sea."

Upham prowls the Devon and Cornwall countryside, looking for likely trees they ought to be about 200 years old, and they do not have to be straight and state-like. A sturdy, gnarled and twisted oak gladdens his heart, because a wooden ship needs bits and pieces of strange shapes.

"We can bend wood in the steam bath," said Upham. "But then the tiny fibers which constitute the wood are twisted out of their natural shape a little, and we lose something in strength and durability. But if that twist grows naturally the wood comes into my ship in just the form it wants to be, and there's nothing like timber to appreciate good treatment."

Mayflower II is a ship of fine appearance, but not built with beauty a first consideration. It is a faithful replica, and the first Mayflower was a practical merchantman, a 180-ton freighter full of creaks which hauled wine from the Mediterranean ports before the Pilgrims chartered her.

"Mayflower II is a live ship, daintily balanced and full of spirit," said Upham. "When we launched her last September, she slid down into the water eagerly and then danced on the waves as if she were a ping pong ball. Then we pulled her back into the dry dock. It's her boudoir, where we are dressing her to go calling overseas."

Upham, who is 49, will sail to America with his ship. In his youth he sailed some of his company's fishing vessels into Braxham harbor.

"When we launched her last September, she slid down into the water eagerly and then danced on the waves as if she were a ping pong ball. Then we pulled her back into the dry dock. It's her boudoir, where we are dressing her to go calling overseas."

Upham, who is 49, will sail to America with his ship. In his youth he sailed some of his company's fishing vessels into Braxham harbor.

(The Associated Press)

And what's the beginning of a good wooden ship?

"The acorn, of course," said Upham. "It's honest oak that we need to withstand the corrosion of salt water, and the battering of the sea."

Upham prowls the Devon and Cornwall countryside, looking for likely trees they ought to be about 200 years old, and they do not have to be straight and state-like. A sturdy, gnarled and twisted oak gladdens his heart, because a wooden ship needs bits and pieces of strange shapes.

"We can bend wood in the steam bath," said Upham. "But then the tiny fibers which constitute the wood are twisted out of their natural shape a little, and we lose something in strength and durability. But if that twist grows naturally the wood comes into my ship in just the form it wants to be, and there's nothing like timber to appreciate good treatment."

Mayflower II is a ship of fine appearance, but not built with beauty a first consideration. It is a faithful replica, and the first Mayflower was a practical merchantman, a 180-ton freighter full of creaks which hauled wine from the Mediterranean ports before the Pilgrims chartered her.

"Mayflower II is a live ship, daintily balanced and full of spirit," said Upham. "When we launched her last September, she slid down into the water eagerly and then danced on the waves as if she were a ping pong ball. Then we pulled her back into the dry dock. It's her boudoir, where we are dressing her to go calling overseas."

House Farm Leaders Seek To Mend Split

WASHINGTON (AP)—House farm leaders sought today to reunify the once invincible "farm bloc" after defeat of efforts to enact new subsidies for growers of corn and other feed grains.

The House dividing along political and sectional lines, Wednesday dealt a virtually unprecedented setback to moves to channel farm subsidies into both the surplus-glutted midwest corn belt and other areas.

Every proposed subsidy program was rejected as the House ignored administration requests for relief to corn growers as well as rival Democratic proposals to expand payments to include all producers of livestock feed grains.

Gangway on all proposals to increase present farm subsidy payments were big city members whose constituents are grocery store customers.

But when it was all over, chairman Cooley (D-NC) of the House

Agriculture Committee announced that "As far as I am concerned, the corn legislation is not a dead item."

Republicans so far have stood fast for limited aid to the corn belt Democrats just as adamantly have stood for a "last chance" compromise to enlarge farm subsidies to benefit cotton, rice, tobacco and wheat farmers who have diverted their acreage to feed grain crops.

With the planting season at hand it was unlikely that any legislation passed at this session could now influence this year's plantings.

Agriculture officials already have told the House Agriculture Committee that Benson would not "let the corn farmers down" this year. These officials indicated he would support compliance corn at not less than 70 per cent of parity—a price standard deemed fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

Among proposals turned down by the House was the administration plan to set a minimum corn planting base of 51 million acres this year, with price supports at 70 per cent of parity and a requirement that corn farmers place 15 per cent of their land in the soil bank.

The Benson plan was sponsored by Cooley because, he said, no Republican was "willing to become its author." With Republicans voting solidly against it, the plan was defeated 167-141.

Wyandot Schools Slate Festival of Vocal Music

SYCAMORE—The annual Wyandot County vocal music festival will be held at the Sycamore High School auditorium next Friday, March 22, at 8 p.m. with Ferris Ohl of Heidelberg College as guest conductor.

All seven county schools will participate with individual choruses. In addition there will be three massed choruses composed of selected voices under the direction of Mr. Ohl.

Directors of the county school choruses are William Stahl, Nevada, Miss Jane Stump, Harper, Miss Carol Gerhard, McCutchenville, Miss Charlotte Seigel, Marseilles, Miss Grace Cron, Sycamore, Mrs. Dorothy Van Buren, Wharton, and Richard Wink, Salem.

Aids Air Safety

NEW YORK (AP)—Manufacturers of a new electronic and radar system claim the device will easily handle the most complex-traffic situations at crowded airports.

The International Telephone & Telegraph Co. said it provides airport control towers with "practically instantaneous data on planes in flight," and simultaneously exchanges data and messages with pilots.

Mayflower II By Alvin Steinkopf

(For HAL BOYLE)

BRIXHAM, ENGLAND
Stuart A. Upham, a weather-beaten man who believes in wood and canvas, is the builder of Mayflower II. She is a lady, Upham insists, a strong little ship which will duplicate this spring the voyage across the Atlantic made by the Pilgrim fathers in 1620.

Mayflower II is in her essentials—looks, size and straining ropes—a replica of the sailing ship in which the Pilgrims ventured to the New World. The new vessel is a gift of the British people to the people of the United States.

Upham and about 35 craftsmen have been working for about a year and a half Upham sizes up the ship taking final form and says with affection gleaming in his eyes:

"A proper wooden ship is the most beautiful thing man ever created."

And what's the beginning of a good wooden ship?

"The acorn, of course," said Upham. "It's honest oak that we need to withstand the corrosion of salt water, and the battering of the sea."

Upham prowls the Devon and Cornwall countryside, looking for likely trees they ought to be about 200 years old, and they do not have to be straight and state-like. A sturdy, gnarled and twisted oak gladdens his heart, because a wooden ship needs bits and pieces of strange shapes.

Federal Lease Of Rail-Owned Lands Blasted

Bad Business, Asserts Congressman During Washington Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Government leases on railroad-owned land in Ohio, Indiana and Louisiana are "bad business" in the opinion of a Texas congressman, Franklin G. Floete, head of the General Services Administration (GSA), agrees.

Chairman Thomas (D-Tex) of a House Appropriations subcommittee so labeled leases on Pennsylvania Railroad land at Warren, Ohio, Illinois Central property at Harahan, La., and New York Central land at Hammond, Ind.

After Floete and aides told a subcommittee hearing of an expenditure of 11 million dollars to build warehouses for storage of defense materials on land leased from the railroads, Thomas commented:

"I don't know what in the world we were thinking about when we spent government money on somebody else's land without taking title to this land."

Floete first described the 27-acre Harahan property. Unlike the other two leases, he said, the Harahan lease includes an option to buy at $2,500 an acre.

Then the exchange went like this:

Thomas: "Well, I hope there will not be another contract made like that."

Floete: "Mr. Chairman, I regret to advise you that there are two others in existence of a similar nature: Warren, Ohio, and Hammond, Ind."

Thomas: "Well, that is just bad business."

Floete: "Sure it is."

Later, V. E. Johnson, deputy director of storage for defense materials said the government pays the Pennsylvania Railroad $2,460 for the 149-acre site at Warren.

"Per year, or for the 20 year period (of the lease)?" Thomas asked.

"For the entire acreage, per year," Johnson replied.

"It is a pretty good rental, in view of the fact that the railroad is getting all the haulage, too," Thomas said.

"That is right," agreed Johnson.

Diamond Jubilee Breakfast Slated By K. of C. Here

V. J. Paul, past state deputy of the Knights of Columbus will be guest speaker at a diamond jubilee communion breakfast March 24 in Moira Hall commemorating the 75th anniversary of the order.

Breakfast to be served following the 7:15 a.m. Mass will be open to all members, their families and members of the St. Mary Parish. The Knights and their guests will attend Holy Hour in the afternoon.

In charge of the program are Karl Pfeiffer, activity chairman, and Past Grand Knight George Baron.

District deputy night will be observed at the regular K. of C. meeting March 26. Fred Koenig of Upper Sandusky, deputy from this district, will be honored. Deputies from the immediate area also will be invited.

Thomas McLean, fraternal activity chairman, will be in charge of the program.

The regular monthly fish fry will be held at the council home April 5. Serving will begin at 7:15 p.m.

A film, "The American Engineer," will be shown at the regular meeting April 9. Council Lecturer Richard Devine will be in charge.

The public speaking class of St. Mary High School, under the direction of Mrs. John Dugan, will be guests at the April 23 meeting. Walter Kraft, council youth activity chairman, is in charge of the event.

Trial Resumes

CINCINNATI (AP)—The murder trial of Denver Powell, 46, resumes today in criminal court after a halt due to illness of defense attorney Harry Abrams.

Judge Louis J. Schneider Wednesday recessed the trial of Powell in the 1949 holdup-slashing of delicatessen operator John Schreck. Powell's first trial on the first degree murder charge ended in a mistrial when a juror became ill.

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. George Doyle suffered severe burns Wednesday night when their home in nearby Cuyahoga Falls was demolished by an unexplained explosion. Firemen and gas company employees investigated the possibility of a gas leak causing the blast, but none was found.

Conserving Water Topic for Meeting Of Women Voters

A film, "Lifeblood of the Land," produced by the United States Department of Agriculture, highlighted a program on water conservation at a Wednesday night meeting of the League of Women Voters.

Mrs. James Corrigan, chairman of the national current agenda item, was in charge of the meeting and Mrs. Richard Larson summarized President Eisenhower's report to Congress on the nation's water resources policy and the reports of his advisers.

Mrs. Francis Coghlan presented facts on Ohio's water use. Her husband, who majored in wildlife conservation at Ohio University and who currently is recreation officer at the Marion Correctional Institution, attended the meeting and answered questions regarding Ohio water conservation and pollution problems during a discussion period.

During the business meeting, it was announced that the voters' service committee under Mrs. Dan Hale would again furnish transportation to persons desiring to register for voting before the closing date, March 27. Those desiring transportation to the Board of Elections should call 2-2588 on March 26. It was announced that election of officers would be held at the April meeting as well as approval of the budget and the local current agenda item for 1957.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Hale on Cambridge Rd. and hostesses were Mrs. Hale and Mrs. John Seranton. Guests included Mrs. Harry Traugh, Mrs. Fred Joergers, Mrs. Edmund Eaman, Mrs. Leonard Snodgrass, Mrs. Miller Makey, Mrs. Dorsey Reeser, and Miss Janet Berg.

Gulliford Cage Squad Takes Tourney Title

Gulliford Hardware's hardcourt five won the Tri-County League tourney championship Wednesday night by turning back a determined Richmond five, 83-80, in the Richmond gymnasium. Waldo Supply took consolation honors by slipping past Wyandot, 69-62.

The tourney champions were victorious only after making a miraculous recovery from a 17-point deficit in the fourth period. Their torrid pace in the final two minutes of play accounted for the win.

Gulliford got off to a fairly good start and led, 23-20 at the quarter. Richmond had slipped ahead, 44-41, at the half, however, and was atop a comfortable 68-59 count going into the finale. With Gulliford trailing by 17 digits midway in the last stanza it appeared as if Richmond had the tie safely sewed away. Then came Gulliford's spirited rally, down went Richmond's stellar defenses and the crown went to the Hardwaremen.

Norm Withrow paced the Gulliford scoring attack with 14 points, while Jim Riley accounted for 13 and Merl Hilborn 10. Dick Griffith dropped 22 tallies through Gulliford nets to lead his Richmond mates, with John Cheney a close second with 20 points.

In the consolation game, Waldo found itself behind by 19-14, 30-25 counts in the first two periods, then got into gear to go ahead, 48-45, after three periods of action. Roy Klingel hit for 24 points to lead Waldo to the victory, while C. Hansel tallied 18 for Wyandot.

At string's end, a first and second string all - tournament squad was chosen by vote of the coaches. First team choices included Jim Stiger of Wyandot and Dick Griffith of the Richmond quintet at the forwards, and John Cheney, also of Richmond, and Larry Hickman of LaRue in the guard positions. Paul Sheppard, Gulliford pivotman, was given the nod as the league's top center.

The second team was comprised of Jerry Gorbey of Caledonia, and Clair Hensel of Wyandot as the forwards. Bob Weston and Jim Riley, Gulliford's regular guards, were chosen to those slots on the all-tournament squad, while John Neal of the Morral Merchants five was named the second team center.

Stiger and Hickman topped the balloting for first team choices.

Bowling

Eaton and Business Men rolled Wednesday night on the Palace Recreation Center boards.

Hights for the Eatonmen included Clyde Schrader, 224-568; Paul Roush, 216; Charles Wisnom, 211-201-585; Ned Samples, 208-574; John Turner, 206-565; John Saxton, 201-538; Dan Reams, 562; Adria Bright, 535; Joe Ferriman, 525; John Street, 519; Don Penry, 514; Robert England, 513; Jack Lamarr, 510; William Gore, 501.

For the Business Men it was top tallies by John Spies, 215-204-603; Ivan Spiers, 203; Charles Bloomingdale, 224; Charles Wisnom, 202; Jim Patterson, 230; Frank Peters, 209; Levern Burkepile, 208; Harold Coffey, 226-604; Dutch Russell, 212; Adrian Bright, 216-200; Earl Cotrell, 212; Les Bunnell, 200; Steve Kuhner, 202-210-600; Larry Montgomery, 210.

Adrian Bright's 200-pin single game score was the result of rolling six strikes and five spares, one after the other, for a "duch" 200. The feat is considered an oddity in bowling and is seldom accomplished.

Junior High Cage Tourney Resumes Play

It's basketball action again Friday night, as semifinal round games in the annual Marion County Junior High School tournament are played on the Morral floor.

The night's opener on the twin bill will pit Caledonia against the Morral quintet. In the nightcap, Pleasant will clash with an efficient Prospect five. The winners of these two battles will clash at 8:30 p.m. Saturday for the tourney championship, with the losers slated to meet at 7:30 for consolation laurels.

Friday night's games promise to offer plenty of excitement and a goodly portion of hardcourt spirit. The scuffle between Caledonia and Morral will be a test of strength between the tourney's scoring giants. The Donians have racked up a total of 135 points in wins of 58-31 over Claridon, and 77-32 over Morral, by virtue of a 71-8 decision over New Bloomington, and a 55-28 wallowing of Green camp, has rolled in 126 tallies.

Pleasant recorded a 52-19 verdict over LaRue's junior cagers in opening round action, then pummeled Grand Prairie by a 46-18 score for a total of 78 points. Prospect had little trouble turning back Meeker's bid, 53-18, then handed Waldo a 55-28 drubbing to boost its tournament scoring thus far to 108 points.

The tourney champion and consolation winner will receive trophies following Saturday night's games.

There seems to be no dearth of 2-year-old thoroughbreds. More than 220 were stabled at Gulliford stream park during the winter.

Webb Whips Greaves, Asks Shot at Crown

CHICAGO (AP) — Middleweight Spider Webb, riding the crest of 19 straight victories, wants and thinks he deserves a shot at the winner of the Sugar Ray Robinson-Gene Fullmer championship fight.

"I think it's about time," said Webb after scoring a unanimous 10-round decision over Wilf Greaves, a hard-hitting 21-year-old Canadian who fights out of Pittsburgh, in a nationally televised bout at the Chicago Stadium Wednesday night.

"I've fought all the tough ones in the top ten," said Webb, "so I feel I should get a crack at the title and get it over with."

Robinson and champion Fullmer meet in their 15 round title bout at the Stadium May 1.

Webb, 159 1/2, a 24-year-old Chicagoan, had a lot of praise for Greaves, 161 1/2, who substituted for Randy Sandy at the last minute when Sandy injured his hand. "Everyone thought Greaves would be a pushover just because he was a substitute," said Webb. "But that isn't always true. I got my start as a sub and this boy is strong, plenty strong. He hit me with some of those rights and it's a good thing I'm in condition otherwise I might not have shook them off."

Greaves' manager, Jake Mintz, was disappointed that his boy hadn't had time to work for the fight, saying, "If we had had a couple of weeks of training, this might have been a different story."

There was no doubt about Webb's victory over Greaves. Referee Frank Sikora scored it 49-42, Judge E. A. Frankel had it 48-41 and Judge Jim McManus 50-41. The AP had Webb ahead 47-48.

Youngstown's Entry in NAIA Plays Tonight

By The Associated Press
The big boys of college basketball stepped aside again today as the lesser lights went about the task of reducing the field to two in the NCAA Small College Tournament at Evansville, Ind., and to four in the NAIA competition at Kansas City.

Friday the giants of the court will be back in action in double-headers at Philadelphia, Lexington, Ky., Dallas and Corvallis, Ore., in the NCAA Major College Championship. Winners meet Saturday to determine the four teams which enter the semi-finals and finals March 22-23 at Kansas City.

Here's how the small colleges will square off in the NCAA affair tonight:

Mt. St. Mary's, Emmitsburg, Md., vs. Kentucky Wesleyan, Lexington, Ky.
Wheaton vs. Los Angeles State.
The championship game will be played Friday night.
At Kansas City, where play started Monday with 32 teams, the field in the NAIA Tournament will be reduced to four with these games tonight:

Pacific Lutheran vs. Texas Southern Hamline vs. Eastern Illinois
Western Illinois vs. Tennessee State Southeastern Oklahoma vs. Youngstown.

The semifinals will be played Friday night and the finals Saturday night.

Wheaton rolled up the highest score of the four small college NCAA games Wednesday. The Crusaders eliminated South Dakota 90-80.

But Mt. St. Mary's of Emmitsburg, Md., also looked impressive in downing Rider of New Jersey 86-66 with Jack Sullivan, the nation's third highest small college scorer, tallying 39 points.

Los Angeles State came from behind in the final two minutes to nip San Diego State 37-35. Kentucky Wesleyan downed the University of Buffalo 72-68.

Six of the seeded teams remained in the NAIA competition. The only break in the seeded ranks yesterday came when Portland (No. 5) dropped an 87-70 decision to Tennessee State.

Top-seeded Pacific Lutheran looked impressive in disposing of Stetson 105-83 but Eastern Illinois rolled up an even higher score in sidelining Villa Madonna 110-78.

Carl Sawatski hit 22 home runs for Toronto in the International League in 1956.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (U.S.)—The stock market's recent advance wilted under profit-taking early this afternoon, leaving prices narrowly mixed. Leading issues showed gains or losses running from fractions to around a point. There was no apparent pressure in any group. Brokers said technical conditions ruled to skim-off some sizable recent gains. A slight increase was reported in auto production, rising sales were reported among auto parts makers and expenditures for business expansion are exceeding the 1956 record.

Gulf Oil gained a point as did Douglas Aircraft and Goodrich.

U. S. government bonds leaned to the upside.

Taking 'Rest,' Ekberg Says

Film Actress Denies Rift In Trip to Copenhagen

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (U.S.)—Anita Ekberg, the Swedish movie actress, flew into Copenhagen today and denied that she was running away from her British husband, actor Anthony Steel.

"There is no truth to it at all," said the shapely actress. "There is absolutely no rift between the two of us. I have come for a rest and for nothing else."

ANITA EKBERG
Hastily Leaves Film Festival

Miss Ekberg left Rio De Janeiro's film festival unexpectedly Wednesday. Her departure from the Brazilian capital was so hurried that she had no time to pack suitcases and arrived at the airport carrying some clothes over her arm.

Blames Sickness
Steel said his wife was leaving because of sickness in the family, but this was a surprise to Anita's family in Malmo, Sweden. Her mother said the only member of the family who is ill is Anita's grandmother—who has been suffering from heart disease for six months.

Steel told reporters in Rio De Janeiro Thursday that "living out of suitcases is enough to give anybody neurosis." He was interviewed at the airport. He said he was returning to Los Angeles to close their house, and had a Scandinavian Airlines reservation on his polar flight for Saturday night. He said he expected to rejoin his wife in Stockholm Sunday.

"It wasn't that we had any trouble," he said, "but we have been traveling since we were married a year ago. We have not had any opportunity to be alone together. We still are very much in love."

The actress said the story of a "serious dispute" with her husband that was reported by a Rio De Janeiro newspaper was "a lot of nonsense."

"I am overworked and very tired," she said. "I need a rest very badly before the shooting of my next movie."

DETROIT (U.S.)—Mrs. Paul Spencer of 991 Parkside Dr., Alliance, Ohio, was elected president of the North Central Jurisdiction Women's Society of Christian Service today.

Mrs. Spencer was chosen to head the 500,000 member, nine-state Methodist organization for four years, succeeding Mrs. Frank L. McDanel of Gary, Ind.

FACES DRIVING CHARGE

Virgil L. Williams, 30, of near Marion, was arrested at 1:55 a.m. today on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was to appear in court later today on the charge, police said.

777 Applications For Korea Bonus Taken Out Here

A total of 777 Marion County Veterans of the Korean War had withdrawn bonus application blanks from the office of the Marion Veterans Service Center by Wednesday night, according to Mrs. Madeline Tatham, manager of the center. With that number, the initial rush of eligible veterans to pick up Form 1 applications apparently is over, Mrs. Tatham said.

An estimated total of 1,748 veterans in the county are eligible for the bonus payments. Mrs. Tatham pointed out, however, that some of these individuals probably are now residing in other counties.

"Most of the veterans coming to my office now," Mrs. Tatham said, "are those requiring help on their applications, or those who want their completed forms notarized."

Indications are that the first bonus checks may be ready for mailing to veterans by the latter part of May. The local office emphasized that claims will be processed "as they are received." In the case where questions arise as to information stipulated on the forms, the application will be set aside and those without question given first priority, Mrs. Tatham noted.

Apparently the process of filling out the forms in Marion County has been going smoothly, she indicated but she added that all veterans are required to mail their official report of separation (Form DD214) along with their bonus application. "A copy of that form will not suffice," Mrs. Tatham declares, and added: "The copy will be returned to the veteran after it has been checked by the bonus board."

The new armed services' pay schedule would raise the salaries of generals, and whether they deserve it most of us, who don't know any, cannot say.

Practical Nurses Group Plans Birthday Dinner

Members of the Practical Nurses Association, District No. 7, met Tuesday night in the YMCA with 24 members and guests attending.

Mrs. Rovana Osborne, president, presided for the meeting.

It was announced that nurses of the first 64-hour class will entertain members of the second class at 6 p.m. in the Co-Ed room at the "Y" on March 28, and also that the division will hold a birthday dinner on June 20 in the community rooms of the West Town Branch of the National City Bank.

The third and last 64-hour course will start around April 10 at the Marion General Hospital it was announced by Mrs. Gladys McGraner. Anyone interested in taking the course is asked to contact Mrs. McGraner, 2-8007 or Mrs. Cecil Roof, 2-2231 at once. Mrs. Geraldine Hammonds, publicity chairman, announced three projects are being sponsored by her committee.

Mrs. Margaret Worden of 372 E. Church St. and Mrs. Mildred Der-ringer of near Upper Sandusky were reported ill.

Refuses To Capitalize on Fame

Dignity, Integrity Mark Career of James Stewart

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — Most of Hollywood—and the rest of the nation—was surprised when President Eisenhower recently nominated James Stewart to be a brigadier general in the Air Force Reserve.

That is typical of Stewart. He has refused to capitalize on his military career for publicity purposes. (Oddly, his nomination was announced the same week his new film about a flight pioneer was opening in New York. But Stewart had nothing to do with the timing.)

He will, in fact, make no utterance that isn't in keeping with his quiet dignity. Probably it is this integrity both on the screen and off that has made him one of the most popular film stars in the world—and perhaps the highest paid.

His generalship prompts a fresh look at James Stewart of 1957, a mature, sober citizen who still seems boyish despite his graying, thinning hair. He will be 49 May 20. In usual fashion—halting but sincere—he answered a barrage of questions at his Beverly Hills home:

Q. You've had offers to run for important offices in Pennsylvania and California. Why haven't you entered politics?

A. I don't think I'm equipped.

Q. How do you pick your scripts?

A. Well, I read just about everything that comes along. I've talked to movie goers from Chile to Japan and the thing that seems tremendously important to all of them is getting an emotional experience from films. Love, hate, fear, greed, etc. Those are the things we should deal in. I don't think we're in business just to spread the American way of life.

If our pictures are good, that's enough to win us friends.

Q. Are you as rich as people say you are?

A. That depends on how rich they say.

Q. They claim you're very well fixed.

A. (After long pause) Yes, I'm well fixed. I'm a wealthy man.

Q. Why don't you like to talk about your air force experiences?

A. I'll talk about the air force today. (He emphasized today, indicating he won't discuss his war experiences.) I go on three weeks of active duty every year. Last year I had a swell tour and I expect another one this year. I'll be going in June.

Q. Do you have any idols among other actors?

A. I don't know if they're idols, but there are some actors whose work I've always admired. (Spencer) Tracy is one, I've always thought (Henry) Fonda was an excellent actor. The same for (Humphrey) Bogart.

Marine Gets 2 Months Cut From Sentence

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP) — A Marine drill instructor, convicted by court-martial last week of illegally touching recruits under his command here, Wednesday got two months lopped off his prison sentence.

A special court-martial sentenced Cpl. William R. Walsh, of Lyndhurst, N. J., to three months in prison, reduction in rank to private, and a fine of $40 a month for three months.

Lt. Col. Oscar F. Peatross, Raleigh, N. C., convening authority of Walsh's court-martial ordered reduction of the prison sentence to 30 days, the Marine Corps public information office here said. Other provisions of the sentence remained effective.

The sentence could be further reduced or thrown out altogether by Maj. Gen. Homer L. Litzner, base commander, who has not completed his review of the court-martial.

Capt. Burga P. Olsen To Serve in Vietnam
—Capt. Burga P. Olsen of the Marion Engineer Depot is being transferred to a new assignment as post engineer in Saigon, Vietnam.

He came to the depot in October, 1955, and was assigned the duty of post engineer. Recently, he was transferred to the office as assistant for supply operations.

Capt. Olsen entered military service in November, 1940. After completing Officer Candidate School, he was commissioned a second lieutenant in October, 1942. From January, 1948, to April, 1950, he served in Korea. From May, 1952, to May, 1955, he saw service in Europe.

He said his wife and son will leave Marion this week. He will take up his new duties in April. A farewell cocktail party in his honor was held in Neuman Hall Wednesday evening.

KENNETH M. ROBEY
Head of Veterans Group

State Commander Of DAV To Talk Here on Tuesday

Kenneth M. Robey of Dayton, state commander of the Disabled American Veterans, will address an open meeting for benefit of all veterans Tuesday at 8 15 p.m. in the Marion Veterans Memorial Home.

Mr. Robey served with the Second Heavy Mortar Battalion during World War II and took part in the invasions of Sicily, Italy and Southern France. He was wounded 14 days prior to VE Day and lost the use of a foot.

The DAV was organized in 1920 and is comprised exclusively of veterans who were wounded or disabled as a direct result of service during time of war.

News of Granges

UNITED
Members of United Grange went on record as supporting the proposed Marion swimming pool issue at the meeting of the organization in the Clardon School Tuesday night. An appeal bid from Berlin Grange was answered.

During the program, in charge of Mrs. Luther Mitchell a duet composed of Emmett Trout and Mrs. Perl Shirk sang, accompanied by Mrs. Grace Haley at the piano. Chief Raymond Romanowski, Marion Navy recruiter, showed two films on Navy activities.

Mrs. Richard Lawrence was announced as winner of the grange's annual sewing contest. Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Foss, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Foss, and Mrs. Kenneth Comstock, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Comstock. A combined meeting with Progressive Grange in charge of the two group's juvenile organizations, will be held April 9, instead of April 23, as originally planned.

PROGRESSIVE

At a meeting of Progressive Grange Tuesday night in the grange hall a report was given by Vernon Gruber, master, on degree work by the grange recently. Mrs. Walter Fetter, gave a report of the home economics committee. It was decided to change the meeting time to 8 30 p.m., effective with the next meeting, March 26. Plans were discussed to paint the interior and exterior of the hall in the near future.

At the next meeting, Mrs. Ellis Epley will show pictures of a trip to Hawaii. Juvenile Grange degree practice was announced for Sunday at 2 p.m. at the hall. A social hour followed and refreshments were served.

MONTGOMERY

Montgomery Grange met in regular session Tuesday night in the grange hall in DeCliff. Roy Anderson talked on native trees of Ohio and Mrs. Josephine Weng gave a monologue. Mrs. Mildred Anderson read a poem titled "The Lord of Burleigh." Refreshments were served by Mrs. Oscar Murphy and Mrs. Bernard Coon.

Head of Chatfield School To Resign

BUCYRUS — The resignation of Dorsey Brause as superintendent of nearby Chatfield School will be effective July 31, school officials reported today.

Brause, who came to the Chatfield School last August 1 from Thompson School in Seneca County, plans to resume work on his doctorate degree at Ohio State University.

Predecessor to Mr. Brause at Chatfield was Carroll W. Biggs who resigned to take another superintendency in northern Ohio.

Sales Tax Collections Show Increase in County

Collections from the sale of prepaid tax receipts in Marion County for the week ending March 2 totaled $27,332.77 for an increase of $3,942.34 for the corresponding period in 1956, according to State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy.

In surrounding counties, collections were:

Crawford, $18,444.68, Delaware, $7,881.03, Hardin, $9,064.96, Morrow, $3,868.70, Union, $6,672.78, and Wyandot, $7,509.46.

Ohio's 88 counties collected a total of $4,079,121 for an increase of $335,902 over the corresponding week in 1956.

18 Men Stationed at South Pole

Base in Antarctica World's Loneliest

McMURDO SOUND, Antarctica (NANA)—The 18 men at the South Pole are today truly the loneliest men on earth.

The last Air Force Globemaster has delivered the last groceries, and the station at the bottom of the world belongs to the elements. Already King Winter has chilled the tiny oasis in the heart of the world's worst desert of snow and ice where nine scientists will probe the secrets of the universe during the International Geophysical Year.

Nine Navy men will help operate the station. Just living is a full time job at the 10,000-foot altitude of the pole in temperatures which Dr. Paul Siple, station commander, expects to hit 120 below zero Fahrenheit.

It was 40 below when the Globemaster "City of Peoria" made the last drop at the pole—100 pounds of dirt for scientific experiments, a high fidelity radio set for relaxation, two tons of steel trusses for the barracks building dropped the day before, six mattresses and some fittings for the aurora towers.

"WE ARE SURE going to miss the roar of your engines overhead," Dr. Siple told Col. H. A. Crosswell, commander of the Air Force task unit which dropped more than 750 tons of materials and supplies.

"We especially appreciate the extras—all the fresh vegetables and the goodies your boys dropped on their own in addition to the support of the Navy's Task Force 43," Dr. Siple said. He had special thanks for T-Sgt. Richard J. Patton of St. Louis, Mo., and Dan Combs, of the First Aerial Port Squadron, who hand wrapped and dropped 47 fresh eggs to the pole party without cracking or freezing.

The pole party had retrieved the parachute bundle and was cooking the air-fresh eggs before the plane left the pole. These are the last they will taste for at least a year.

The station looks like a boomerang on the radar scope, which is the only way it can be found through the ice haze that wraps the polar plateau most of the time now for hundreds of miles in all directions. Glimpsed through the ghostly mists it looks like some phantom spider spinning a phantom web of trails across the snow where the lone Weasel has retrieved the cargo dropped by the C-124 Globemasters of the 52nd Troop Carrier Squadron.

THE TRACKS made by the last ski planes to land there last month are still visible, carved in bas relief by the winds which have scoured away the snow around the tracks, leaving them elevated above the surface by a foot or more. Snow has partially buried the metal cocoons in which the pole party will hibernate this winter. One barracks building remains to be erected. A start has been made on a 1,000-foot tunnel leading to the seismology building.

Once the sun sinks below the horizon March 22 the pole station will be almost as isolated as if it were on another planet. Four Navy R4D (DC-3), skiplanes will remain at Little America, 850 miles away on the Ross ice shelf, but they are unable to operate at the 10,000-foot elevation of the pole in the temperatures of minus 60 and colder.

The pole party is equipped with a D-2 caterpillar tractor and a Weasel, but neither can haul enough fuel to reach the nearest neighbor, even if they could negotiate the glacier with their gaping crevasses.

The scientific station in Marie Byrd Land is also isolated for the winter without hope of seeing another plane for nearly a year after the departure of the Globemasters, which dropped 230 tons of fuel for this speck in the center of the Rockefeller plateau. But the Byrd station is equipped with D-9 tractors capable of following the Army-Navy highway tractor trial 650 miles back to Little America. Sneakers in the spring will traverse the unexplored corners of this vast snow desert, the only territory in the Antarctic not claimed by any nation.

THE POLE PARTY cannot expect to see any new faces for another 10 months or more. Sir Edmund Hillary plans to start for the pole in October, crossing the Ross ice shelf from his base two miles from the U.S. Base at McMurdo Sound, climbing to the central plateau up the newly discovered Skelton glacier. Hillary, conqueror of Mount Everest, will travel by dog teams, laying down supply depots for Dr. Vivian Fuchs, leader of the British Trans-Antarctic expedition, who will start from the Weddell Sea and cross the continent, more than 3,500 miles, by snow-cats to McMurdo Sound.

Dr. Siple does not dismiss the possibility of surprise visits from the Russians and possibly the Australians during the mild spring months, November and early December. He would also like to make some short treks of his own next spring if conditions permit. But his first and biggest job is simple: survival at the coldest, most remote and inaccessible spot on earth.

Maj. Williams Is Assigned to Depot

Marion Engineer Depot welcomed Maj. Alton P. Williams to the staff of the installation with a cocktail party held in Neuman Hall Wednesday evening.

He has been assigned to the depot after returning from a recent overseas assignment in Germany. Maj. Williams first entered service in November, 1940. He was commissioned a second lieutenant in June, 1942, after completing Officer Candidate School. From August, 1943, to November, 1945, he served overseas in the European, Mediterranean and Asiatic-Pacific Theaters of operation. From July, 1946, until June, 1948, he served in Europe and from August, 1950, to September, 1951, he was stationed in Korea and Japan. From March, 1954, to February, 1957, he served in Europe, coming to Marion from Heidelberg, Germany.

A native of Leonard, Tex., Maj. Williams, his wife and two daughters, Sharon Elizabeth and Laurie Lee, will make their new home in the staff area.

District Health Nurse Named

Miss Lindstrom Will Serve 27-County Area

Miss Edith Lindstrom has been appointed state nursing consultant to health departments in 27 counties in northwestern Ohio, including Marion County. Dr. Ralph E. Dwork, state health director, announced today.

The new nursing consultant will work with public health nurses in both official and voluntary agencies in planning new programs, evaluating existing programs, and assisting with staff education. She will be based at the State Health Department's district headquarters in Bowling Green.

A registered nurse, Miss Lindstrom has been employed by the Visiting Nurse Association in Cleveland since 1943, serving as staff nurse, student instructor, and for the last six years as a supervisor.

Name Is Right

NEW YORK (A) — Hiromichi Ohara, a Japanese exchange student, says his name, makes him highly eligible for marching in Saturday's St. Patrick's Day parade.

Ohara, 29, studying at Manhattan College, showed newsmen a top hat and green ribbons he has in readiness for the big parade. "I don't have the right accent but I have a proud name," said Ohara.

'Unwieldy,' Legislators Charge

Assembly Group Raps State Education Board

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The 23-member elected State Board of Education took an hour's punishing criticism Wednesday night in a House Education Committee hearing.

Declaring the 14-month-old board is unwieldy and that the Republican-controlled 1955 Legislature made a mistake in creating such a large one, Rep. A. G. Lancione (D-Beaumont) told the committee.

Lancione Bill Presented

"It has been suggested that the board be given another year or two to get its feet on the ground. But time won't cure the situation. If a change is needed, it should be made now."

He was speaking in behalf of a constituted, is two-thirds the size of the Ohio Senate.

Superintendency Issue

After several references to the fact the board took nearly a year to appoint a superintendent of public instruction, only to find there were constitutional bars to the appointment of its final choice, Lancione said:

"The fact they now at this late date decided to appoint a man within shooting distance of Columbus gives me some doubt the board is of a size to act."

Lancione was referring to Tuesday's appointment of E. E. Holt, superintendent of Springfield schools, to the state superintendency. Holt had been under consideration for the state post for months and was named less than 24 hours after the state board authorized the start of a new search for a state superintendent.

Women Voters Opposed

Lending her support to the bill was Mrs. Fred Davis of Lima, representing the Ohio League of Women Voters. Mrs. Davis told the committee the board's performance during its 14 months of existence has not swayed the League in its view that a smaller, appointed board would do a better job.

"We are just lucky," she told the committee, "that we managed to get as good an elected board as we did."

Sen. Charles A. Mosher (R-Lorain) chairman of the Senate Education Committee, was invited to speak, but he remarked: "It would be highly improper for me to say what I would like to say. I am certain that all the charges made against the board tonight can be answered."

Opponents of the change in the board setup will be heard next week.

Probers Defied By 9 Witnesses

Investigation of Red Propaganda Pressed

NEW YORK (AP)—A Congressional committee investigating communist propaganda and publishing has run into a new batch of balking witnesses.

Many more witnesses have been subpoenaed by the House Un-American Activities Subcommittee which continues its public hearings today and Friday.

Nine witnesses Wednesday invoked constitutional guarantees of free speech and press and protection against self-incrimination in refusing to say if they were communists or to answer various other questions.

Most of the witnesses were identified as writers or distributors of communist literature.

Reps. Morgan M. Moulder (D-

Mo) and Gordon H. Scherer (R-Ohio), who conducted the hearing, said afterward that the refusals of most of the witnesses placed them in peril of contempt proceedings.

Easing of 'Tight Money' Seen by Official of FHA

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top federal housing officials have joined in cautious predictions that "tight" money will loosen up a bit and homebuilding will rise again this year.

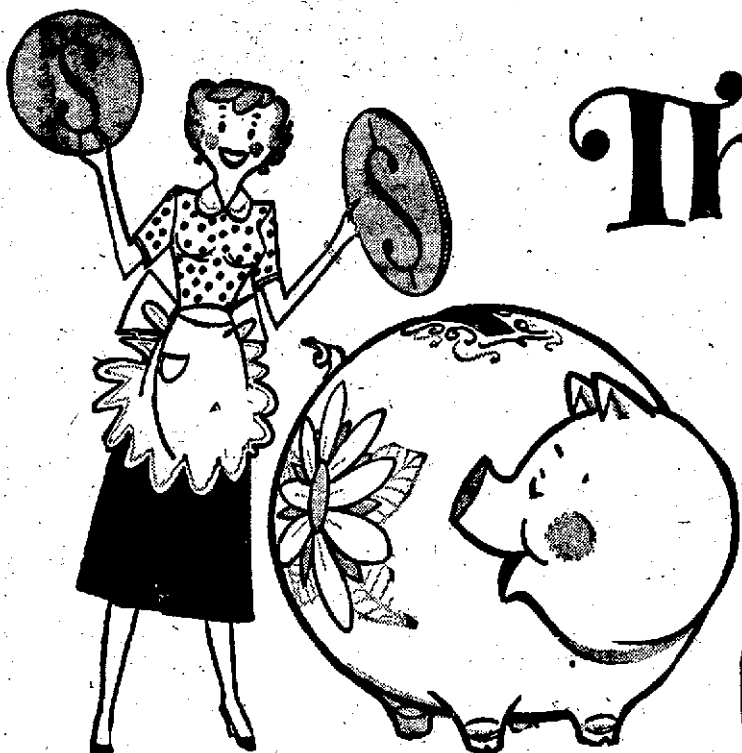

Albert M. Cole, of the Federal Housing Administrator, said his "best judgment" is that 1,000,000 new houses will be started this year.

That would be about the same building rate as last year and a reverse of a downward trend which saw housing starts slip to a seasonally adjusted rate of 1,010,000 starts in January. High interest rates and a difficulty in getting mortgage money have been blamed for causing the housebuilding drop.

Guest Pastors To Speak for Local Service

Special Music Slated At Wesley Preaching Mission for Tonight

Preaching mission services in progress at Wesley Methodist Church this week will continue through Sunday night with guest speakers Friday and Saturday nights. The pastor, Rev. W. L. Stafford, is in charge and will preach tonight.

Rev. John Wagner of the Green

Camp Methodist Church will be heard Friday night and Rev. William Nelson of the new Community Methodist Church will preach.

Special music tonight will be by a quartet composed of Mrs. James Buck, Mrs. Robert Campbell, Mrs. James Alcorn and Mrs. Troy Evans. Mrs. James Ruth sang Tuesday night and the choir will heard Wednesday night. Donald E. Preuninger will be soloist Friday night and the Intermediate Choir will sing Sunday.

Guest preacher Monday night was the denomination's Lima District superintendent, Rev. Harold F. Kellogg. His theme was, "What Shall I Do With Jesus?" In addition, he conducted the congregation's fourth quarterly conference of the conference year.

At this session Richard Davis of Marion was recommended to the district conference for a license to preach.

New officers elected include Roy Buckingham, Don Hentze, Floyd Hofacker and Troy Evans, trustees; Ernest Carpenter, Mrs. Imo Hentze, Miss Sally McGinnis, Melvin McKnight and Robert Wilson, stewards; Willard Ginder, representative to the district Methodist Union; Mrs. Robert Messenger, treasurer for current expenses and custodian of deeds and papers; Mrs. Edith Bush, membership secretary; Robert Messenger, Mrs. Marjorie Hull, Richard Iler and George Reidmiller, members of commission on membership and evangelism; Mrs. W. G. McIntire, member commission on education;

Mr. and Mrs. Don Hentze, Mrs. Eugene Lashey, Mrs. Homer Moehn, Mrs. Messenger, and Mr. and Mrs. James Ruth, members commission on mission and church extension; Mrs. Messenger, member commission on stewardship and finance; Mrs. Messenger and Harold Cook, policy committee; Mrs. Katie Hartshorn and Mrs. Ruth Sautter, music committee; Miss Barbara Daly and Lowell Schlecht, temperance committee; Don Bishop, Mrs. Betty Hines, Mrs. George Reidmiller, Frank Sloot and Ed Throckmorton, world peace committee, and Mrs. Melvin McKnight, Mrs. Messenger, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Fletcher, Mrs. Gloria Ruth and Forrest Sykes, building fund committee.

County Traffic Toll Increased, Report Shows

A statewide trend of fewer traffic deaths but more injuries in more accidents was only partly true in Marion County during 1956 according to a statistical analysis released today by the Ohio Department of Highway Safety.

In releasing the results of the study, Gordon Jeffery, director of the state department, said, "An increase in injuries with a face-saving reduction marked the end of a sordid year in traffic accidents in Ohio." The situation "cries for help from every quarter of the state," he said.

In Marion County there was not only an increase in injuries and accidents last year but also an increase in fatalities, the report noted.

Total accidents climbed to 1,011 compared with 734 in 1955 and 736 in 1954. Of the total, 20 persons died in 17 fatal accidents in 1956 compared with 19 deaths in 18 accidents in 1955 and 24 in 1954.

Injuries last year totaled 315 compared with 245 in 1955 and 269 in 1954. Property damage resulting from the accidents was estimated at $392,811 in 1956, $331,613 in 1955 and $317,000 in 1954.

Highest death tolls last year were in the following counties, the report noted: Cuyahoga, 174; Summit, 92; Franklin, 91; Hamilton, 89; Montgomery, 86, and Lucas, 73.

Injuries jumped 11 per cent on state totals last year while fatalities dropped three per cent the statistical report revealed.

Only county to reduce traffic accidents in the three years from 1956 was Pike County, the statistical study disclosed.

Central, Upper Great Plains in Drought Area

WASHINGTON (AP)—The shadow of the prolonged drought has shifted from the southern to the central and upper great plains.

The Weather Bureau report shows that the region that received the smallest percentage of its normal rainfall for the December-February period included Kansas, Nebraska, most of Iowa, and parts of Minnesota and Wisconsin. This region was reported to have received less than one half normal precipitation. The long-suffering southern great plains was said to have received supplies varying from one half to twice normal precipitation for the period.

Shortage Forces Layoff

CLEVELAND (AP)—A shortage of liquid oxygen has caused Republic Steel Corp. to lay off 251 workers and shut down four furnaces at its Cleveland open hearth plant. A company spokesman said a strike against Republic's chief supplier, Linde Air Products Co., caused the shortage.

Story Book Ending for Nanette

Nearly a year has gone by since Nanette Fabray announced her withdrawal from Sid Caesar's black-balled and faced an unsolicited barrage of gloomy predictions about her solo future. "Look at what happened to Imogene Coca!" echoed self-styled oracles who blindly based their prophecies on the fate of past show business divorcees, and who are now saying the same thing about Janet Blair. In Nanette's case, however, the prognosticators have been properly foiled. She stood under auspicious TV rays during the past year. And the future?

From the vantage point of this corner, it looks gloriously sunny. "No other female performer in TV today is more sought after," remarked an NBC executive, who's on tenterhooks while Nanette makes up her mind whether to sign for a fall network series titled "June," the creation of a very able writer named Jess Oppenheimer. (He was formerly head writer for "I Love Lucy.")

ALL BY HERSELF. Nanette has set a precedent among show business divorcees, but credit her not!

"How much control do you have over your own future?" she asks simply. "To be honest about it, I feel I've been star-kissed. Maybe it's hindsight or something, but I've been able to hook up with TV craftsmen who've made me look good. "If Imogene Coca had had the right people working with her after she left Sid, I think things would be different for her now. Certainly she's no less talented than she was as Sid's partner. She just hit the wrong combination in TV. I could very easily have ended up in the drink, so to speak, after the Caesar show."

Nanette's association with the forthcoming "June" series came about because of her so-called "hindsight" about people. "You might say," she put in, "I've been bought each other. I like what he has to say. I like what he stands for. Except for the fact that I'd play the owner of a flower shop in a small town, I don't know what the show will be like. I plan to fly to the coast for the pilot film next week, right after I do 'The Original Miss Chase' on the 'Alcoa Hour' Sunday."

WITHDRAWING FROM the security of "Caesar's Hour" and achieving success on her own represents something of a triumph to Nanette for personal reasons. "The day in 1954 when Sid called me into his office to offer me the spot on 'Caesar's Hour,'" she's publicly stated, "I had just emerged from the black-balled and faced an unsolicited barrage of gloomy predictions about her solo future. "Look at what happened to Imogene Coca!" echoed self-styled oracles who blindly based their prophecies on the fate of past show business divorcees, and who are now saying the same thing about Janet Blair. In Nanette's case, however, the prognosticators have been properly foiled. She stood under auspicious TV rays during the past year. And the future?

The current high interest in her professional services smacks of a story book ending, heightened in no small way by the fact that there are wedding bells on her horizon. The "who" and "when" here, are matters she'd like to keep out of earshot of buttnisks for the present, anyway!

TAKING A CUE from the recent "Romeo And Juliet" presentation, Red Skelton is fashioning an hour-long satire on Shakespeare's tragic love story for April 2, and the casting will be properly ludicrous—Arnold Stang as Juliet and Red as Romeo. Incidentally, Stang sparked considerable confusion when he reported to Brooks Costume Co. for a Juliet outfit this week. As Stang explained it: "No body there ever fitted anyone like me for a Juliet costume before."

WEEKEND TRENDEX ratings: Perry Como, 29.3—Jackie Gleason, 22.1; Ed Sullivan 28.8; Steve Allen 24.6. "Armstrong Circle Theater," which dwells on big news events, will dramatize the recent airplane crash on Riker's Island April 16 from the viewpoint of the prisoners who heroically aided the crash victims. We've a bone to pick with the sponsors of both the Jackie Gleason and Perry Como shows. Their commercials now come on at the same time, highly disconcerting to those of us who hope to catch a glimpse of Como during the Gleason show commercials and vice versa! (Copyright N. Y. Herald-Tribune)

District Attorney Offers Views on Rock and Roll PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—William B. McKesson, district attorney of Los Angeles County, appeared for a quiz session before a panel of teenagers. He was asked if he thought rock 'n' roll should be outlawed and gave this answer: "No. Personally I don't dig it, but that doesn't mean that I would want to ban it. There are good and bad elements in our current music. I believe that most teenagers are wise enough not to carry the bad elements to excess."

1917 Revolt Unknown to New Russia

Few Present Reds Were Around in Early Days

By WILLIAM L. RYAN AP Foreign News Analyst

Three quarters of the seven million Communists who rule the Soviet Union's 200 million people today have little or no memory of the Russian revolution, the Bolshevik coup which seized it, or the civil war which followed it 40 years ago.

This 75 per cent is under the age of 50. A new generation of rulers, it is conservative, intent on maintaining the present system. For Russian Communists, revolution is unthinkable except in the outside world.

But 40 years ago, revolution and civil war were tearing Holy Russia to pieces.

The civil war began immediately after a coup d'etat in November destroyed the "February revolution" which had ended the ancient rule of the czars and promised a hopeful future.

Bolsheviks, led by Lenin and Trotsky, were in power through treachery. Russia's first and only free election—for a constituent assembly to draw up a constitution—was held in November 1917, and the Bolsheviks were a poor minority despite the fact they held the power. The election was tossed on what Communists like to call "the dust heap of history." The constituent assembly was dispersed by force.

The Bolshevik party, by now renamed Communist, maintained its power by terror. It organized the Cheka (Extraordinary Commission to Combat Counter-Revolution) and its terror made the Okhrana, the Czar's secret police, seem like a timid amateur.

ONE CHEKA member was an obscure 22-year-old industrial worker from Nizhny-Novgorod, Nikolai Bulganin. His record in the Cheka belies the gentle grandfatherly look of today's Soviet Premier.

Few of today's leaders were in evidence then. Men like Georgi Malenkov and Mikhail Pervukhin, now powerful party Presidium members, were teenagers. Nikita Khrushchev, present party boss, was a 23-year-old revolutionary in the Ukraine, a mechanic and sheep-herder before joining the movement which was to betray Ukranian independence. V. M. Molotov, now a first deputy premier, was a 27-year-old editor. He was helping a 36-year-old Georgian named Stalin edit a Bolshevik paper, Pravda. A. I. Mikoyan, powerful Presidium figure today, was 21, a revolutionary in the Caucasus, unknown in Petrograd.

As civil war began, old Russia was falling apart. In the south, Ataman Kaladin proclaimed independence for the Don Cossacks and support for the fallen Kerensky government. Ukrainians in Kiev declared independence. So did Finland. Independent governments rose in the Caucasus, Siberia, Poland, Stalin, as "commissar for nationalities," proclaimed the right of any people to self-determination, and Russia was made up of many peoples. The Bolsheviks proclaimed the right—but didn't mean it.

Russia was smaller than at any time since Peter the Great, two centuries before.

BUT RUSSIA was to swell again, bigger than ever, until it would cover almost nine million square miles, greatest land mass under a single rule in history. It would include a sixth of the earth's habitable surface, three times the size of the United States, stretching 7,000 miles east to west, 3,000 miles north to south, from middle Europe to the Pacific, from the arctic to the tropics. Rich in resources, most of its millions would stay poor.

The Bolsheviks soon compounded the ancient Russian tragedy. They moved the capital from Petrograd (renamed Leningrad) and its "window on the west," to Moscow and its Asian influence, its forbidding, oriental-looking Kremlin. Then began three years of "war communism" and the process of sealing the Russians off once again from the west.

The Western Allies, fearing Russian wealth would fall into German hands—the war was still on—intervened soon after the Bolshevik coup. The West had recognized the provisional government before the Bolshevik counter-revolution, and had accepted its promise of continued participation in the war against Germany.

WHILE CIVIL WAR raged on many fronts against formidable White Russian armies, the indefatigable Trotsky, now war commissar, organized a conscript Red army and miraculously equipped it.

Meanwhile, in the expropriated home of a merchant in the Urals town of Ekaterinburg, the local Soviet herded the Czar, Czarina, their four children and their retinue into the cellar, read the death sentences, and one by one finished off the royal family with pistol shots. The bodies were burned in a forest.

Red terror began in earnest. The public had a preliminary taste in January, 1918, after an attempt on Lenin's life. Reprisals were staggering. Now the Russians once again experienced sudden nocturnal arrests, mass sentences, executions without trial. And a new specter haunted the country. Years of war, fantastic casualties in men and animals, primitive farming methods, a succession of droughts, peasants resistance to crop confiscation, all combined to bring famine.

BUT THE CIVIL war ended in total rout of the White Russians. Lenin then proclaimed his "New Economic Policy," with concessions to farmers and private trading.

Only Lenin's prestige could have checked the growing conflict in the leadership of the party. Stalin, now general secretary and in a powerful position politically, schemed against Trotsky, who so overshadowed him in the revolution.

Lenin died in January, 1924. The party cleavage widened. A three-year struggle for power ended with Stalin the victor and Trotsky exiled. Then Stalin, who had argued with Trotsky against immediate collectivization of the peasants, changed tactics. A campaign began to "liquidate the kulaks"—the better off peasants—and force collectivization. When it was over, the USSR faced famine again. But Stalin had beat the peasantry to his knees and was ready for the next step in his rise to czardom.

Communist Bloc Scores Gains

Trade Offensive Waged By Reds in Middle East

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (NANA) — Mule caravans carrying wool into Asian-Russia from Afghanistan, Polish freighters being loaded with cotton at Alexandria, Egypt, and Czech technicians in the cities of Syria all lead up to a disturbing picture for Western traders. Within three years the Communist countries have increased their commercial trade from $500,000,000 to almost $2,000,000,000 with the Middle East.

This little noticed but startling fact is revealed in the semi-annual world commercial statistics released by the United Nations. Observers are quick to point out that while Washington has just begun to try to fill a commercial and political vacuum in the Middle East created by the exit of France and Britain, the Communist countries have already taken the commercial offensive.

During 1956 the Communist orders and deliveries to the Middle East were substantial enough to provoke pro-West governments into refusing permission to such Soviet plans as opening of insurance companies and shipping offices in the region.

ALL THE SAME, several rich contracts fell to the Communist trade missions. Czechoslovakia increased its chemical production by 25 per cent to meet the requirements of this region. Poland is readying a plant for manufacture of enamelware in Egypt. Poland also signed an agreement with Jordan, Syria, and Saudi Arabia to construct the rather ambitious railroad project linking Damascus with Medina through the worst desert in the world. And Poland has Egyptian contracts for shipping yards and a factory of electrical apparatus.

The Soviet Union will build for India a railway carriage workshop, iron casting plants in Syria, a metallurgical plant in Turkey, and one hydro-electric project in Pakistan.

The whole emphasis in these multi-million dollar agreements is that the Communist countries will make blue-prints, deliver and construct the plants train the local workers and put the plants into operation.

THE BASIS OF TRADE is bilateral agreements between East European countries and the Middle East. The Soviet Union, however, found that bilateral trade agreements were not in keeping with the exchange values of its products and Middle Eastern raw materials and has now switched to multi-lateral agreements. It pays with sterling received from exports to Britain.

Sometimes the Soviet Union makes direct purchases from the Middle East countries, and then re-exports the goods to Eastern Europe. Egypt recently has complained that Czechoslovakia resold Egyptian cotton to Germany at cut-rate prices.

The new long-term plans now initiated by the Soviet Union have been subjected to extensive inter-governmental discussion. Khrushchev announced at the 21st Congress of the Soviet parliament last month that Russia would give credit totalling $525,000,000 (billion). He even said that Russia had no need to develop all branches of its industry when there was advantage from trade.

Still, the picture is not very rosy for the Communist traders in countries like Iraq, Pakistan, and even India. As members of the sterling area, they have a wide and unrestricted market for exports and a smoothly functioning payments system. Therefore they have less need to develop a bilateral trade and payment basis with the Soviet Union.

Competition from established "name brands" of America and Britain have made the Communist consumer goods rarely sought for. But heavy Communist industrial investments against Middle East raw materials is a trade pattern that few Western observers underestimate and few minimize the dangers in such a pattern.

Milwaukee Man Given Winter Sunburn Help
MILWAUKEE (U) — Police, summoned in 12 degree weather, rushed Robert Fehl, 36, to the hospital for treatment of sunburn. Hospital attendants said he suffered an inflammation of the eyes and superficial burns on his chest and back. Fehl explained that he had been reading under a sunlamp and became so engrossed he lost track of time.

KING CAROL HEIR. Artist Mircea Lambrino, son of a Russian cabaret dancer and the late ex King Carol of Romania, is shown in his Paris apartment after he won a French court decision to share in the estate and title of the late king. Lambrino's mother was married secretly to Carol in 1918.

Kadar Wiping Out Opposition

Intellectuals Are Victims In Hungary Show Trials

VIENNA (NANA) — The cream of Hungary's pre-revolution intellectuals seem doomed to be the victims of a series of elaborately staged Budapest show trials.

The elite of the Red regimes of the past decade, those at least who have not fled the country, are among the defendants in a long roster of cases apparently designed to discredit the leadership of the intellectual class and to enable prosecution of rebel leaders for common criminal offenses.

In preparation also, it is reported here, are cases against former premier Imre Nagy and his top supporters, now "guests" in an isolated Rumanian village.

Among the authors, poets, journalists and Communist party theorists under arrest and awaiting trial are Pal Loscei, former editor of the party paper, Szabad Nep, accused of helping Western newsmen Zoltan Zelk, winner of Hungary's highest poetry award, the Kossuth Prize Gyula Hay, internationally known playwright, who urged resistance against the Russians on the Budapest radio. Milos Gimes, a former member of the Szabad Nep editorial board put to death on an upper floor of a hospital in which the pair's basement printing office was housed.

IN EVERY CASE the intellectuals are singled out as enemies of the working class who were, to quote Interior Minister Munnich "responsible for the blood shed by the terrorists hired by the West to exterminate tried and true leaders of the workers."

Preparations are well advanced, it is reliably reported here, for a trial of Imre Nagy and his close associates, now in Rumania. Whether the preparations are realistic or are being used to blackmail Nagy and his friends into accepting the return of Stalinism to Hungary is a subject of lively speculation in Budapest. Some say that Premier Kadar would welcome back Nagy and his associates if they would endorse his regime.

Rail Town in Wyoming Shut Door on Salesmen

GREEN RIVER, Wyo. (NANA) — If your community is free of door-to-door peddlers, you may have this railroad town of 2,500 to thank—or blame—for it.

The 25th anniversary of Green River's Local Ordinance 175 has just passed. Since 1931, the ordinance has been hauled before local and state courts, and all the way up to the U. S. Supreme Court. It has been somewhat battered, but remains unbowed.

An estimated 3,000 communities across the nation today post signs on their city limits warning "Green River Ordinance Observed Here." Motorists frequently think it is a soft drink advertisement.

But door-to-door salesmen know it means they are not welcome. The ordinance prohibits selling directly to home without a specific invitation from the individual householder.

TAKEN TO COURT by commercial concerns, it has been declared constitutional. But when towns tried to apply it to members of the Jehovah's Witness, a religious sect which proselytizes from house to house, the U. S. Supreme Court upheld the right of religious groups to approach any house they chose.

It all began when the depression struck the nation, and hundreds of thousands of laid-off persons turned to door-to-door selling for a living. A swarm of "solicitors, peddlers, hawkers, itinerant merchants, and transient vendors of merchandise," to quote the ordinance, "descended upon" this Western Wyoming town, division point for the Union Pacific railroad.

Railroad men who worked nights and slept days found their rest disturbed by bell ringers and door knockers armed with goods to sell. The complaints grew until the town demanded action. On Nov. 16, 1931 the town council met, in crowded chambers, and passed Ordinance 175. Since then, town clerk A. C. Gene says, "hardly a week goes by without our getting requests for a sample ordinance."

WITHIN FIVE years after its passage the ordinance was twice taken into court by the Fuller Brush Company. Both cases were decided in favor of Green River.

After World War II the number of communities adopting the Green River ordinance snowballed so swiftly that the house-to-house selling industry began a counter-attack. After sporadic failures and successes throughout the nation the battle was carried directly to Green River itself.

In the autumn of 1951, more than 200 direct-to-home selling companies invaded Green River with a letter campaign, radio appeals, fluent speakers, and tabloids inserted into the regular editions of the weekly Green River Star.

THE COMPANIES asked the town administration for a public

A Westinghouse Electric Corporation glass transformer undergoing tests in the company's huge sound-insulated vault at Sharon, Pa.

It takes a GIANT to step up electric power

It takes a giant transformer to step up electric power, and it takes a giant medium to step up sales power. That medium is the daily newspaper, a giant that lives in every town.

The amount of sales power you get out of an advertising medium depends on its coverage, availability, readership (or listenership or viewership), flexibility and believability.

Ingredients like these can transform an ad campaign into a profit for the retailer, wholesaler, distributor, or manufacturer. And newspapers have these ingredients in abundance.

With newspapers, you can reach just about every prospect for your merchandise. You can gear your advertising to the weather, to readers' special interests, to time, to place — to suit your own convenience. And best of all — newspapers are the action medium.

That's why all advertisers invested over $3,305,000,000* in newspapers last year — more than in TV, radio, magazines and outdoor combined.

Step right up and step up your sales power. Use the daily newspaper.

All business is local...and so are all newspapers.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

1-A-CARD OF THANKS

WE WISH to thank all our many friends for the lovely gifts, cards and kind words received for our 50th wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Earl O. Wertman.

1-B-IN MEMORIAM

IN MEMORY of my dear husband, Howard Hughes, who passed away one year ago today. It seems like only yesterday, you smiled your way through life. We cannot seem to realize that one long year has passed. Sometimes it is hard to understand why some things have to be. But in his wisdom, God had planned beyond our power to see. We cannot see the purpose, but all is well that is done by thee. Sadly missed by Mary Hughes and Family.
